Didn't Wear Out Welcome

"I called at the Munniswells' today," aid Snobb. "Stylish people they are; ouse splendidly furnished; received ne very graciously and asked me to call again." "They did?" inquired um. "Why I always heard they were ery exclusive. But did they enter- ain you?" "Oh, I didn't stop long," aid Snobb. "Only called with a bill or groceries."

Co-Operative Communities

The most primitive example of co- perative communities exists in the offee plantations of Nicaragua and uatemala. Here the laborers build heir own houses and lead a healthy appy community life, although they robably never heard the word "co-op- rative" and know nothing of modern ygienic devices.—World Health.

Winged Rod of Mercury

The curious-shaped wand that the god Mercury is always pictured as car- rying is called a caduceus. It is a winged rod with serpents twisted about t. The wand is magical, according to ancient mythology; with it Mercury could give sleep to any human being. So Milton refers to it as Mercury's "opiate rod."

Early Canadian Industry

The first clock factory in Canada was established in the village of Cote des Neiges, about two miles west of Montreal. The machinery was driven by water power, supplied by a small stream fed by springs at the western ase of Mount Royal. The proprietors of the factory were J. and W. Twiss.

WELL KNOWN ATTORNEY IS CALLED BY DEATH

Attorney Clarence Benjamin Stockman, member of the firm of Rockwell & Stockman, attorneys, and also connected with the Porter County Abstract company, died Monday night at 10 o'clock at his home, 506 Monroe street. His death, while not unexpected, was a great shock to his relatives and many friends throughout the city and county. His demise was the result of an illness which manifested itself three years ago. Shortly after his condition became very grave, he journeyed to Toronto, Canada, to take the insulin treatment for his ailment, diabetes. This afforded him much relief and he rallied so amazingly that it was believed his life was to be spared for many years. He gained ground rapidly at the time, and for the first time since his serious illness it was felt that he had an even chance of recovery. But the rally was short-lived and he soon sank to his former condition, and from that time on his strength ebbed [illegible] In Mr Stockman's [illegible] Valparaiso and Porter county lose an upright and honorable citizen who possessed a large circle of friends.

Mr. Stockman was born April 3, 1875, in Kosciusko county, Indiana. Here he spent his early life. At the age of 27 years he came to Valparaiso and entered the university, taking up the study of law, which he pursued for several years until his graduation from the school. In the same class with him was Mark B. Rockwell, and the friendship which sprang up between the two during their college days culminated in the formation of a law practice which was terminated only by Mr. Stockman's death. The two men, together with Harry J. Schenck, also formed the Porter County Abstract company, one of the leading abstract firms in Porter county.

On May 8, 1905, Mr. Stockman was united in marriage to Miss Belle White, of Valparaiso, who survives him, together with his father, Anthony Stockman, of Adams, Neb.; one brother, Charles Stockman, of Adams, Neb., and one sister, Mrs. Emma Post, of Chicago. Philip Miller, of Jackson township, is an uncle of the decedent.

Mr. Stockman was prominently identified with the Masonic lodge. He was a member of the Mystic Shrine, of Murat Temple, Indianapolis, and a past officer of Porter Lodge No. 137, F. & A. M.; Valparaiso Chapter No. 79, R. A. M.; Valparaiso Council No. 86, R. & S. M.; Valparaiso Commandery No. 28, K. T., and Valparaiso Chapter No. 164, O. E. S. He was also a member of the Presbyterian church.

Funeral services will be held from the late home, 506 Monroe street, Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, conducted by Rev. E. W. Strecker, and will be private. Interment will be in Graceland cemetery.

FEBRUARY 23, 1993

Dear Lucy:

Appreciate your letter of February 17 and the attached information

When I first started on the Valentine line I found the large Valentine family book in the Cincinnati, Oh library. I started out with Richard, Richard, Richard just as you show. I do have my work into a computer and I find it easier to put info in so I have working copies with me when I go to do research. Then I start to try to prove or dis-prove any information I have gotten.

I kept getting conflicting info. Birth and death records or dates would not check out, etc. Finally I hit pay dirt.

Attached is an article I found in the Gene. of Long Island Families written by one Beatrice Valentine Di Duca. I sent a letter to the address in Ca. but came back unknown. Suggest you read this article now and then come back to this letter.

So -- you see from this that we descend Richard, Ephriam, Richard, Obadiah and everything I had gathered fell into line. I do not plan to write a book and have only put into my computer my direct line. However, I do have a place on the marriage records for each marriage I have imput where I am listing children. The enlosed charts only shows my direct line but I may have other info you might want.

I am enclosing a chart showing the descendents of Richard Valentine. This is complete down to my grandson in my line and I have a cousin in here who is one more generation down. So it is quite long but thought you would want it.

The attached chart for the ancestors of Nancy Valentine who married Lewis Broadwell will give you the over-all picutre. I thought you would want the Mulford line, etc. I am pretty sure of my ground on all of this. I have done a good bit of work on it. A trip to NJ and LI last year gave me much information. I am planning to start out again in mid May. Will be coming to Cincinnati where I have relatives. They have the best resource materials I have ever seen anywhere. Am going back to NJ and LI.

Once you wade through all of this you will find we descend from both Mulford brothers. We also descend two ways on the Conklin line. It really makes for fun when cousins marry.

Let me know if you agree we do descend Richard, Ephriam, Richard, Obadiah, etc. I have not compared my dates, etc with what you have on each person but I expect we probably do have about the same information. Will look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Margaret

12 GENERATION PEDIGREE CHART

It is recommended that a chart be filled out initially as a work copy. Then after checking for accuracy a final copy can be typed or done in ball point. If desired the final copy can be done with the front side being on one chart and the back side on another chart. Then both charts can be laid side by side to show all information at once. This chart has been punched so that it can be folded and put either in a three-ring binder or in the two different 8½″ × 14″ binders.

12 GENERATION PEDIGREE CHART

It is recommended that a chart be filled out initially as a work copy. Then after checking for accuracy a final copy can be typed or done in ball point. If desired the final copy can be done with the front side being on one chart and the back side on another chart. Then both charts can be laid side by side to show all information at once. This chart has been punched so that it can be folded and put either in a three-ring binder or in the two different 8½" × 14" binders.

FOREWORD

This book consists of an index of the 1910 census of Shelby County, Ohio. It can be used to locate entries in the microfilm record. This record is available at all National Archive branches and many libraries and historical societies. The index includes almost ten thousand names. The names in this index have been extracted from the National Archives census microfilm T624-1230 for the 1910 Federal Census.

Although the primary listing is that of the head of each household, names such as those of his or her elderly parent or adult sibling and many adult off-spring are also included. Anyone in the household whose surname differs from that of the head of the household is included in the list.

In most cases, a nun's surname does not appear in the census. Those entries appear in the listing as if her surname were "Sister".

Following the given name of each individual listed in the index is the code for the township division and the page number on which it will be found on the microfilm. The township abbreviations are as follows:

Cli	Clinton	McL	McLean
Cyn	Cynthian	Ora	Orange
Din	Dinsmore	Per	Perry
Fra	Franklin	Sal	Salem
Gre	Green	Tur	Turtle Creek
Jac	Jackson	Van	Van Buren
Lor	Loramie	Was	Washington

The page numbers listed in the index are those which appear in bold type in the upper right corner of every other sheet on the microfilm. To clarify this in the index, the letter "A" signifies the page on which the number appears and "B" indicates the page following, on which no number appears. These letters do not appear on the microfilm.

The page numbers on the left side of the microfilmed page are those used by the enumerator and are of no significance with respect to this index.

Every effort has been made to record each name exactly as it was spelled by the enumerator, even when it appears to have been in error. Hence, extra care should be taken in the search when a name does not appear where expected. Difficulty in reading some handwriting will account for other errors and, occasionally, faded ink necessitated guess work. Corrections will be welcomed and should be sent to:

Lucy,
I took a quick look through Judith Olsen's Lippincott : Five generations of the descendants of Richared and Abigail Lippincott didn't find your names but it was a quick look, you will know better which names to look at first. I live in Springfield, OH. I'm descendanted from Samuel Rice Lippincott (1762 NJ- 1836 OH) m. Elizabeth Morgan (1766-1849 OH). Samuel R. Lippincott ended up in Allen Co, Oh but his son, another Samuel B. Lippincott settled in Champaign Co. Samuel B. married 4 times, if I remember correctly 2 or 3 of his wives are buried in Kingscreek Cemetary, Salem Twp, Champaign Co, OH. My line is through his first wife, Rebecca Parker. Their daughter Elizabeth married a William S. Petty.

I haven't worked on this line for a while so it was good to dust off the Lippincott books and look through them.

Hope you find the right line, as the books are great- well-researched for the older lines especially the first 5 generations.

Beth

I have a great book which was published by a New Jersey genealogical society which takes the Lippincott line from the about 1640 for 5 generations. The last generation is in Champaign Co. among other places.

P/B : Harrison Chapel Cem.,Elkhart,In .between Rds.36 and 38,,row 4 at time of death he lived near Harrison Center,Elkhart, In.

There was nothing in the Goshen,In ,.Directorys from 1897,1883 and 1890
I feel he had moved to Harrrisonville Center by then.

It seems that records in Goshen show lots of land purchased in Hannah's name from 1830

One of these days I'll have to go over to Pennsylvania and poke around. Coincidentally, I went to college in Greensburg, Pa., completely unaware I had any ancestors from that area. I'm in Columbus, Ohio. I have been in touch with a couple of Harrold relations in Columbiana County, but I don't know all the connections. The only Harrold photo I have is that of my great grandmother, Catherine Harrold Unger. She was the daughter of Michael Harrold. She married Jacob Unger (another early family from that area) and lived in East Palestine, then Alliance, Ohio. Many members of these families went to Indiana to the areas around Nappanee and Plymouth, and my 96-year-old Unger uncle remembers visits from the Plymouth folk.
Good to hear from you.

Hi Hermione,

I have been trying to break down the Miller wall and have managed to flesh out the family of Andrew and Sarah Rathburn, but have only guesses about who came before -- but I think they are good guesses! In Carroll Co, Ohio there is a Jacob Miller from Cumberland County, PA who had a son Andrew. The biography of Abraham Miller in Carroll Co says he was born 1813 and was the second child of Jacob. No other information known about Jacob's son Andrew - I think he is our Andrew. Also in Carroll Co, Ohio (having come from Cumberland Co, PA) is a Simon Earnst who married one of Jacob's daughters. That ties in nicely with Anna Earnst who married Philip Caris - both having come from Pennsylvania, spent some time in Carroll Co, OH before moving on to Crawford Co.

x — http://www.geocities.com/Heartland/Plains/9263/miller3.html — desc. of Christian Miller

Here is a website showing the Jacob Miller family members - this would take us back to Pennsylvania with the Miller family. I attended college in Annville, PA (little tiny town!) and just have the feeling this is the right link. I just have to find something to prove it. There is an Andrew Miller in Monroe twp, Carroll Co, OH in 1840 - If this is our Andrew born about 1810 then this fits him and also Sarah Rathburn for age. There are 4 children in the household, so there are a couple unaccounted for. There are two Andrew Millers in Crawford Co in 1840, but one is about 10 years too old and the other 10 years too young - IF Andrew was born in 1810.

I would be open to comments or suggestions. It is time for the Millers to go beyond Andrew!

It is nice to hear from both of you. I was very interested to see that you have Sarah Kopenhover (Kopenhaver, etc...) as the wife of Andrew N. Miller. I had Sarah Rathburn from a file that CJ had sent awhile ago.

Curiously enough, there were members of the Miller family in Dauphin Co, PA who were related to the Jacob Miller who went to Cumberland Co, PA. AND there are a lot of Kopenhaver families in Dauphin Co. I'll have to see what I can find about them next time I get a chance.

I actually live in Bucks Co, PA. It makes it easier to find some of the Pennsylvania information on our families!

Do either of you descend from the Strouss brothers, Jonas and John? If you are, let me know -- there has been a big breakthrough on this family.

I made a genealogical trip through Ohio a couple years ago. My son who was 12 that summer was a good sport - everytime we stopped at a cemetery he would say "who are we looking for here?" and go looking for them!

Dear Doris-

Hope you are still at this address. I just found some addresses that I had misplaced concerning my Jacob Diffendufer & wf. Barbara Kirsch/Kersch

In your line did your John/Anna Maria have a son Jacob (as in above?).

I seem to not get things done as quickly as I used to or else I start too many projects in genealogy.

I found your name/address in Diff. family file, Lancaster, Pa.

I have been searching for Jacob's father/mother for so long.

If you have any info. concerning this line I would really welcome any thing.

Hoping to hear from you -

Dear Mrs Greene

I am a long time responding to your letter regarding information about Rosa Weeks. My husband lived next door to them and walked to school with them. unfortunately he died in May of 1995. He would have been a good source of information for you. He was one of the local historians. I have a family tree compiled by one of the Stewart descendents. I would be glad to share any info or pictures I have with you. My phone number is 937-492-1086

Hi Lucy,

Good to hear from you. I guess great minds run together as I was just thinking of writing to you anyway.

I haven't received any email from your niece, but would love to hear from her. I had replied to your email on July 25th, but perhaps it didn't go through., so I've gone to my sent box and copied it here.

"Hi Lucy,

Thank you for responding so quickly. Mike and I are both in our early 50's (I'm 53 and he will be on August 1st), but I am the only genealogy nut in our house. Mike is semi-interested---thinks it's neat and nods politely when I babble on about it---but that's about as far as his interest goes.

I have most of papers

I have gotten most of my information from Thad M. Taylor who has a website with extensive Valentine information. He is also in contact with Beatrice Valentine who has something to do with the Valentine Papers I think. Just go to the FamilyTreeMaker/Genealogy.com website, type in Barnabas Valentine, and hit search. I think you too will be impressed with the amount of data which Thad has.

I wish I had family pictures, but unfortunately I don't. There was a big hassle when we had to put mom into a nursing home (alzheimers) and dad moved into town. People started raiding the old farm house before we could get things out of it (hard to do when working full time) and all the pictures, most of the antiques, etc were all taken. It's aggravating, but I guess someone needed them worse than we did and they have to answer for what they did someday. I don't even have any pictures of grandma and grandpa---in fact the only one I have of mom and dad together was one I paid to have taken professionally just before she went into the home. If you have any old photos I sure would appreciate it if you could scan them in and email them to me.

Like I said in my previous letter, I can remember Nell coming to the farm to see grandma when I was little. I always thought she was such an attractive lady. Then she and one of her granddaughters (I think it was one of Jack's girls) came back to Ohio for my wedding and to this day I can remember the little girl asking so politely if it would be all right for her to have her picture taken with us. I can just barely remember seeing a photo of Nell in her ballet dress and of course to me that was so special because what little girl doesn't want to be a ballerina when she grows up?

We live about 11 miles east of Sidney, in Logan County. Sidney is the closest town of any size to us so we do our shopping there. Mike worked there for 29 years until his plant closed about a year ago and he is now working in Troy (Miami County). It is about 70 miles round trip daily, but it is a job. I also worked in Sidney until the end of February when I got rear ended and haven't been able to return to work yet.

Please let me know more information concerning the Valentine reunion. I think it would be very interesting to attend.

It's great to hear from you. We definitely need to stay in touch"

I had wondered if you had the opportunity to check out the Barnabas Valentine data which had been posted by Thad Taylor on Family Tree Maker site. I'm not sure that all of his information on our line is correct, but it is definitely a starting point for research. Jim Cox, from here in Quincy, also has a site with limited information on his Valentine line---his mother was Velda Virginia Valentine, a daughter of Harold V. and Mabel M. Howell Valentine. Harold, of course, was a brother to Nell.

I'm going to try to attach a Gedcom file to this containing the information I have put together from Thad Taylor, Jim Cox, and what I remember of our own line. Please let me know if this comes through.. I would love to have any information on your line that you would be willing to share.

Did you go to the Valentine reunion? Where is it held? I have always been interested, but have never found out exactly when or where it was held.

Where do you live? Do you get into the Sidney area often? Our phone number is 937-585-9131 and I would love to hear from you. Perhaps we can meet somewhere for lunch or something if you happen to be in the area.

Write again soon. I really enjoy hearing from you.

The third came a year or two later in Section 7, according to Goodspeed; however, as we could find no record of a school in Section 7, this may have been Hopewell in Section 8. The next was in the Fulk neighborhood in Section 32 at the southeast corner of 500S and 700E.

In the late 1870's Swan Township saw one-room (common) brick schools pop up throughout the township. The 1874 map of Swan Twp shows the location of Haag, Hopewell, Swan Center, Swan, Miller, Preston and Salem Schools. Kugler and Rosenberger were also in use. All but Hopewell, Haag and Swan Center had closed prior to 1924. There is no mention of a Rosenberger School in the 1884 school enumeration, thus it appears that it had closed much earlier. A parochial school was located at Ege. The largest enrollment in 1884 was at Swan.

Hopewell School

Hopewell School had its beginnings much earlier than the 1899 building shown in the photograph at left. The end of school at Hopewell came in 1937. This building is now being used as the Hopewell Church fellowship hall. It is located in Section 8 at the northeast corner of Hopewell Road and 725E. Haag School, located in Section 28 at the northeast corner of 857E and 500S, was in existence in 1874; and a new brick building was constructed in 1906. It closed in 1937; and the building was converted to a residence. Salem School was in Section 26 on the north side of 500S near 1050E. Rosenberger School was located in Section 35 at the southwest corner of 500S and 1100E. Miller School was in Section 20 at the southeast corner of 300S and 700E. Preston School was located in Section 11 on the south side of 100S near 1075E. Kugler School was in Section 23 at the southeast corner of 375S and 1000E. Swan Center School was located in Section 16 along the south side of Swan Road near 875E. It housed its last student in the school year 1926-27. The vacant building yet stands in 2007.

In October 1871, David Voorhees, Martin Bilger, David and Jonathan Simon laid out 101 lots at the junction of the two railroads which ran through the township. They named their village Simonville. The railroad company continued to call it the Grand Rapids Crossing, however. In 1875 a petition to change the name to LaOtto was presented to and accepted by the county commissioners.

LaOtto School's history, as recorded by Richard Porter in his History of LaOtto, begins with school being held on the second floor of B. F. Simon's wood frame building. (Harlan's Hardware was located at this site at the time of Porter's writing. Another wood store building, two stories high, stood next to the hardware/school. It caught fire and both buildings burned to the ground on September 21, 1892.) * – In 1876 the first official school building for LaOtto - a one-story brick school house - was built at the south end of town next to where the Wesleyan Church now stands. In 1901, this structure was replaced by a brick school at the corner of Bilger and Tamarack Streets. Classes for all eight elementary grades were taught here; and in 1902 a 3-year high school course was added. A four-year course was implemented in 1910; and some of the former graduates re-entered in order to complete the additional year. In 1917, this school was damaged by fire; and the local Lutheran and Wesleyan churches supplied temporary classrooms until repairs could be made. Needed repairs and an increase in the number of students brought about an addition at the south end of the building in 1918, along with the inclusion of a basement gymnasium. High school courses ceased with the graduating class of 1937; and future eighth grade graduates were given a choice of attending Avilla or Huntertown High School. The first eight grades were educated here until 1961, when 8th graders were sent to nearby Avilla. In 1965 a new building, part of East Noble Community Schools,

The Schools

The earliest recorded school building in Swan Township, according to Goodspeed's 1882 History of Noble County, was a log house built in 1838 in what is now Section 13 near the settlement of what was to become Swan. Prior to that, in 1837, Eliza Parker taught a term of six months in a crude structure that had been built and deserted by Samuel Barkwell. Mr. Barkwell and his wife, the former Lorinda Timmerman, were early settlers, coming from Jefferson County, New York, with Lorinda's brother and sister-in-law, Henry and Anna (Broughton) Timmerman. The Broughton-Timmerman families were instrumental in the early development of the village of Swan, which remained the largest populated settlement until the late 1870's when the Simons created Simonville from Grand Rapids Crossing, later to become LaOtto.

As the county became organized, log cabins turned into frame buildings and then came brick schools. A congressional township was designed to have schools placed within 2 miles of each other throughout the township, and numbered, starting with No. 1 in the northeast corner and ending with No. 9 in the southwest corner; however, land terrain and population concentrations were responsible for changes in the master plan. The only recorded land deed to the township for a school plot prior to 1874 was that from Jonas Strouss on April 28, 1857. It is assumed that all other schools included on the 1874 map had been built on property for whose owner the school was named and which would be returned to the land owner when the school disbanded.

School burned down 1914

The old log house deserted by the Barkwells was used for school until 1855, when replaced by a frame building on the north side of Summit St. about a block east of the Plank Road. This lasted until 1876. Then a 2-story brick schoolhouse was erected by resident Bela Broughton, using bricks he had burned himself. (Bela's father, Samuel Broughton, one of the original developers of Swan, was a brother to early Swan teachers, Cordelia and Lucy Broughton.) The brick building was damaged by fire in 1893 and burned completely down in 1914. It was replaced by a brick structure in 1915 and housed students until the late 1920's. The 1915 building still stands at its original location in Swan, and after being used as a Methodist Church for a few years, it next became a residence and is now vacant.

Avilla News February 16, 1893

Fire At Swan

At an early hour Friday morning Will Bricker at Swan noticed a faint light in the upper room of the school building. His first opinion was that somebody was in the building. Noticing it again later the light had grown so much brighter that he realized the building was afire, and he hastened to the scene, awakening neighbors as he ran. The blaze had gained a pretty good hold in the floor and woodwork; but some valiant service with buckets extinguished the flames. Six or seven joists had burned completely off, and the building is damaged to the extent of about $200, which is covered by insurance. It is supposed a burning chunk fell against the stove door, knocking it open, and in this way the fire was communicated to the floor. A private residence at Swan has been rented, and the term of school is continuing, having been interrupted but two days by the fire.

The second schoolhouse in Swan Township was built in about 1842 near Hiram King's residence. It eventually became known as the Hooper School, located in Section 3 on the east side of the intersection of what is now Hopewell Road and 900E. It was reduced to a pile of bricks by 1950.

BENJAMIN GREEN. The agricultural community is the foundation for true prosperity in the state, and in the homes of the farmers we may read the future of the country. The family represented by Mr. Green constitutes one of those industrious and enterprising households whose intelligence and integrity, common sense and practical knowledge influence all about them and conduce to the prosperity of the section in which they live. Their excellent farm, upon which is situated a pleasant home and good farm buildings, is one of the best in Monroe Township.

Throughout his entire life, a period of more than sixty years, the subject of this sketch has been identified with the history of Monroe Township. Here he was born July 26, 1832, to Rigneld and Sarah (Willison) Green, natives of Virginia. He was one of five sons and four daughters, five of whom are living, namely: Ibbie, who first married John Clouse, and is now the widow of John Evans; Nancy, wife of Abraham Mayfield, of Cromwell, Ind.; Sarah, whose first husband was Samuel Miller, and who now lives in Leipsic, Ohio, the widow of Abram Brake; Levina, wife of James Tippey, of Monroe Township; and Benjamin, of this sketch.

The father of this family was a farmer by occupation. He came to Ohio and settled near Lancaster with his parents about 1790. Thence he removed to Licking County and established his home in Monroe Township about 1803, purchased one hundred acres near the county line, which in a few years he sold. He bought two hundred acres on Raccoon Creek. He gave his attention to its improvement until his death, March 25, 1862, at the age of about seventy-five years. His wife survived him ten years, dying when about eighty. Both were members of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and he was licensed to preach in that denomination.

The paternal grandfather of our subject, Rigneld Green, was a native of Virginia and a farmer by occupation. He was several times married, having two sons by his first wife, and six by his second, who was the grandmother of our subject. He attained the great age of one hundred and ten years, and so remarkable was his activity and strength at an advanced age, that on the day he was one hundred years old he rode a horse on a gallop. The maternal grandfather of our subject was also a native of Virginia, probably a farmer by occupation, and lived to a ripe old age.

Benjamin Green was born and reared in Monroe Township, within two miles of his present home. His early education was received in the district schools, but his education has been gained principally in the school of practical knowledge. He remained with his father as long as he lived, then purchased his present home farm of eighty acres. This he owns and operates, also cultivating an eighty-acre tract that belongs to his wife, and is situated across the road from his land. Having lived in Monroe Township for so long a period, he has witnessed its wonderful development. When his father came to Licking County the Indians had not yet removed further west. Everything was in an unimproved state. Hardships were many and advantages few. Farmers had no implements save a single plow, a hoe, sickle and scythe. In spite of privations, however, those days were not unhappy ones, and are recalled with pleasure by the few survivors of those early times.

On the 24th of April, 1856, Mr. Green was united in marriage with Miss Elizabeth, daughter of Jacob and Elizabeth (Degue) Clouse. Ten children were born of this union, four sons and six daughters, Granville W., Flora Adell, Marietta, Harry, Missouri, Horton, Helen, Hattie, Benjamin

W. and one that died in infancy. Marietta, Horton and Benjaman are also deceased. Granville married Miss Ruhamy Fitzwater, and they have two children, Benjamin and Pearl. Flora A., wife of Charles Williamson, has three children, Orie, Claude and Wandie. Harry chose as his wife Miss Jennie Crawford. Missouri married William Clouse, and they are the parents of two children, Leah and Gladys. In religious connections, Mr. and Mrs. Green are members of the United Brethren Church, in which he is serving as Trustee. Politically he is a Republican, and has filled the position of Township Trustee for two years. One of the progressive citizens of the community, he identifies himself with all that pertains to the upbuilding of the county's interests and welfare, and gives liberally to all worthy charities.

WILLIAM SPENCER EAGLE, whose name is well known among the farmers of Burlington Township, this county, was born in McDonough County, Ill., October 16, 1842. The genealogical record of the Eagle family has been published, and from that we find the name was formerly spelled Egle. Marcus Egle, the first representative of the family in America, was born in 1690 in Canton Zurich, Switzerland, and emigrating to this country, settled in Pennsylvania and became the progenitor of all of this name now living in the United States.

The grandfather of our subject, John Eagle, was born in Lancaster, Pa., and was the son of a brewer. In youth he learned the trade of a hatter in Philadelphia. He married Catherine Spencer, and early in the present century came to Ohio on foot and purchased property in Mt. Vernon, Knox County. He returned to Pennsylvania to bring his wife to the new home, but she objected to moving, fearing that the Indians still in Ohio might prove dangerous neighbors. For that reason Mr. Eagle remained in the Keystone State, where for nearly twenty years he followed his trade. In the spring of 1824 his wife and children removed to Ohio, and after a short visit with brothers in New York State he joined them there in the fall of the same year. Settling in Licking County, he remained here until his death, in 1837. His wife died in 1861 and their remains lie buried in Spencer Cemetery, in Newton Township.

Valentine Eagle, father of our subject, was one of twelve children and was born in Huntingdon County, Pa., on October 11, 1811. He came with the family to Ohio in 1824 and worked as a farm hand until he grew to manhood, after which for a number of years he was guard at the Ohio State Penitentiary in Columbus. About 1838 he married Maria Hines, a native of York County, Pa., but at the time of her marriage residing near Dayton, Ohio. While employed as guard he purchased one hundred and sixty acres in McDonough County, Ill., but upon removing thither he found the land was poor. He therefore rented land for four years, but being afflicted with ague and not liking the country, he returned to Ohio. In 1857 he purchased a small tract of land in Miller Township, Knox County, having removed to that county in 1855, where he has since resided. His wife died in May, 1888, after having become the mother of six children, John, William S., Mary V., Hiram, Catherine and Margaret L.

Our subject was two years old when the family returned to Ohio, and his earliest recollections are therefore entirely of the Buckeye State. In boyhood he attended the common schools, and early acquiring a knowledge of agriculture, chose for his life work the occupation of a farmer. On attaining his majority he went to Illinois and was employed as a farm laborer in McLean County. Returning to Licking County, he learned the trade of a carpenter, but his attention has been devoted principally to farming, and at different times he has resided on various farms near Utica. At present he occupies a well improved and valuable farm in Burlington Township.

In 1869 Mr. Eagle was united in marriage with Miss Martha, daughter of Henry and Sarah (McVeigh) Smith, and a native of Knox County, Ohio, being the only child of her parents. To this ment he followed his trade. In the spring of 1833 his wife and children removed to Ohio, and after a short visit with brothers in New York State he passed from there in the fall of the same year, settling in Licking County. He remained here until his death, in 1837. His wife died in 1861 and their remains lie buried in Spencer Cemetery, in Newton Township.

He therefore rented land for four years, but being afflicted with ague and not liking the country, he returned to Ohio. In 1847 he purchased a small tract of land in Milton Township, Knox County, having removed to that county in 1841, where he has since resided. His wife died in May, 1868, after having become the mother of six children: John, William S., Mary V., Hiram, Catharine and Margaret L.

President's Corner

JANUARY 1993 brought many hours of clouds and gloom. By the 12th, we'd seen just five hours of sunshine! January also brought you a new president at the special election on the 9th. Let's have a great year!

We all express our deepest appreciation to Sue, whose efforts in founding and keeping the organization going through the years have meant so much. She has resigned from the executive board, but we look forward to her continued active participation in society affairs.

I anticipate a lot of exciting discoveries in genealogy this year, and hope to see many of you at our meetings to share these experiences. Check the calendar on p. 26 and plan to attend.

At the January board meeting we voted to send 3 Atlases, 6 copies of the Champaign Democrat Centennial Edition, and newsletters for the 9th annual Florida chapter of the Ohio Genealogical Society meeting in Melbourne. We hope they enjoy them.

Several attended our excursion to Logan County Genealogical Society, Bellefontaine to see their facilities and materials. In March Tacy Arledge told us about chancery records; hope you heard her. Plan now to go with us to Wright State Univ. Library on Apr. 18--a good way to find great resources.

Is your notebook ready with a "need to know" list? Summer will be here soon. Be sure to have days, hours, etc., of the facility you plan to visit; it's pretty disappointing to arrive on the doorstep and find a CLOSED sign.

It's also time to take your cassette recorder (with a tape in it!), your list of questions, and visit that relative you've been planning to ask about your family history. Don't put it off!

A couple summers ago, Ralph and I visited his Aunt Minnie while doing genealogy in Pickaway Co. She showed us a scrapbook of newspaper articles and photos she had put together for her enjoyment. I was so excited about an obit of Ralph's great-great-grandfather, John Leasure. She told us to take it; no one would care about it when she was gone.

Ralph was reluctant, but she insisted--and so I did! He carefully cut it from the scrapbook and we gingerly carried it home--it was so brittle. Then 13 days later she died quite suddenly. We have no idea where the scrapbook is now. The moral is: Do it NOW; don't delay!

Have a great spring! Hope to see you at some of our meetings.

CONCORD NOTES

The recent published marriage record contains some names familiar to the writer, hence our comment.

First in the list is that of Humphrey Fitch and wife, who in our early recollection were residents of Mad River Twp. Mr. F. was a brother of the late Mrs. Hugh Gibbs, of this vicinity, and we believe is still living at an advanced age in northwestern Missouri. Runyon S. Northcutt and wife were for many years residents of Westville, where they both died. They were the parents of Mrs. Hugh M. Gibbs, of St. Paris.

Daniel Pence married Polly Bacome on the farm adjoining us to the west. She is said to have had a very peculiar temperament, always taking a prominent part in the duties of the farm.

Aaron Berry, a well-known citizen of Concord Twp., was the stepfather of our friend Levi Johnson, of Urbana. Politically he was of the Democratic school, and for many years held the office of high sheriff of this township. Each year he would talk of quitting the responsibilities of office, but when the time came, he was invariably a candidate, holding on with a tenacity that would blanch the cheek of any modern politician. On a visit to friends near Gallipolis, he died among strangers. His one son has since passed from the stage of action.

Mathew Stewart is a well-known and highly esteemed citizen of Salem Twp. His wife, Lucinda Martin, was raised in the same locality with our better half, on the brushy fork of Beaver Creek, in Harrison Co., Ky., and came from there with the family at an early day in a four-horse wagon, driven by the late Uncle Billy Long, of Salem.

Elias Sullivan lived all his life in Harrison Twp. His wife was a daughter of the late Joseph Longfellow, one of the early settlers of this neighborhood.

John West resided in Jackson Twp., and was at one time sheriff of this county. A number of his children live in the old neighborhood.

James Osborn was a brother of Noble Osborn, of Westville, and his wife a daughter of Thomas Kenton. Mr. O. lived in Westville, where his wife died.

Joseph Kelly and wife still live in Jackson Twp., are well known and highly esteemed. Jeremiah Shaul is the father of John Shaul, of Urbana, and still lives in the eastern part of the county.

More than 52 years have passed since the marriage of the above, most of whom enjoyed the golden wedding with the partners of their youth.

This concludes the list of our personal recollections.

UNKNOWN MAIDEN NAMES

These can be very difficult to locate in genealogical work. An excellent source is in deeds.

In the lower lefthand corner of most deeds, you'll find the signature of from two to four witnesses. The first one is always from the husband's side; the next, always from the wife's. That is to protect her one-third dower right under law.

Nothing will ever give you greater clues to maiden names than the witnesses on those old-time deeds.

CONCORD TWP. PIONEERS

As early as 1807, there came into this community a Scoic man, familiarly known as James McLaughlin, the grandfather of Dr. McLaughlin, of Westville. He settled on one of the school sections when the whole country, with but little exception, was an unbroken forest, inhabited by wild beasts, as well as the red man.

The location he chose at that early stage of the country's settlement was the place now owned by Daniel Bruner and occupied by his son William, 1½ miles NE of the church. Here he erected the primitive log cabin and reared a family, who were afterward noted for several things: their good sense and high social qualifications, and their huge muscular frames and generous tendency to make everybody feel at home around them.

Among this number we remember, as nearly everybody else does, the late Dr. McLaughlin, of Tremont City. Another brother of the family was Wilson McLaughlin, who became a member of church at this place in 1821, being then a mere boy.

About 1830 the family moved to Buck Creek and later to Wisconsin. A short time since five children of Wilson McLaughlin, a brother and four sisters of Dr. McLaughlin of Westville, who reside respectively in Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, and Idaho, paid their brother a visit. It was our good fortune to dine with them at Esq. Pence's, and there learned that the two brothers had not met for 32 years. While each of their heads has materially changed color since their former meeting, their meeting and recognition was a subject of remark. James McLaughlin owns a large horse ranch in Idaho, where he has been operating for 25 years. While he has not been permitted to vote for a President in all that time, he is nevertheless a staunch Republican. He left Champaign Co. 48 years ago, since which time he has not been on his native soil.

Mrs. Hattie White, of Minnesota, one of the number, is 6 feet fall, weighing about 200 lbs., a first class teacher, thorough temperance woman, and a good Republican, which with her excellent social qualities, places her at the head of one of the F.F.'s of Minnesota.

Mrs. Boyce and Mrs. Baldwin, of Wisconsin, complete the list. The combined weight of the six aggregates 1200 lbs. They visited the birthplace of their father, and the site of the old church where their father and grandfather attended, some 75 years ago. The occasion was of rare interest to them, and no less to those they chanced to meet. The hearty handshake that one of the number gave us, when they learned who we are, will never be forgotten.

DON'TS WHEN USING CENSUS RECORDS

Census records are easy to use; what can go wrong? Plenty, both for the beginner and the experienced researcher.

DON'T stop with soundex findings, go back to the original census record.
DON'T believe the census indexes to be either correct or complete
DON'T assume the spelling of the name is as you know it now.
DON'T assume the relationship to the head of the household is as stated; has anyone yet found a listing of niece-in-law, for instance?
DON'T assume the wife is the mother of any or all of the children listed.
DON'T assume the ages given provide a birth year.
DON'T forget to copy all the information at the top of the page, as well as all the data to the right of the occupation column.
DON'T forget to copy all the entries for your surname in the county; and look over the neighbors too. Four Smiths in a row with a Jones in the middle could easily mean a married daughter and her family.
DON'T think that the records before 1850 will not be helpful. They may have only the head of the household listed, but it will also give you an indication of how many other people were in the household at the time.
DON'T think census data gives all the answers
DON'T forget the 1880 plus records when you are stuck in the early 1880's. 1880 and later give the birth state of the father and mother.
DON'T forget the 1890 veteran's census if your ancestor was in the military. Widows were also listed.
DON'T forget about state census records.

"GONE WEST" INDEX: CALIFORNIA'S MAJOR GOLD REGION, 1840-1940

Surnames Being Researched By Local Genealogical Societies

Complied By The TUOLUMNE COUNTY GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY, James M. Prunetti, Project Chairmen
First Edition, May 1984 Sonora, California

WHAT THIS REGIONAL SURNAME INDEX TELLS YOU:

① All families and individuals referred to here (by surname) lived in, or within close proximity of, the following existing "major gold region" counties sometime during the first century of westward migrations to the area -- roughly, between 1840 and 1940: Alpine, Amador, Butte, Calaveras, El Dorado, Fresno, Madera, Mariposa, Merced, Mono, Nevada, Placer, Plumas, Sacramento, San Joaquin, Sierra, Stanislaus, Sutter, Tuolumne, Yuba.

② Every surname listed here refers directly to the "surnames-members-are-researching" card files of genealogical societies in, and within close proximity of (25 miles or so) the "major gold region" counties indicated.

PROBATE COURT has many responsibilities. "Eventually it touches the lives of everyone."

Here, from the Ohio Revised Code, its duties and responsibilities are defined.

The Probate Court

2101.24 Jurisdiction of probate court

(A) Except as otherwise provided by law, the probate court has exclusive jurisdiction:

(1) To take the proof of wills and to admit to record authenticated copies of wills executed, proved, and allowed in the courts of any other state, territory, or country. If the probate judge is unavoidably absent, any judge of the court of common pleas may take proof of wills and approve bonds to be given, but the record of these acts shall be preserved in the usual records of the probate court.

(2) To grant and revoke letters testamentary and of administration;

(3) To direct and control the conduct and settle the accounts of executors and administrators and order the distribution of estates;

(4) To appoint and remove guardians and testamentary trustees, direct and control their conduct, and settle their accounts;

(5) To grant marriage licenses;

(6) To make inquests respecting persons who are unable to manage their property and affairs effectively for reasons such as mental illness, mental deficiency, or physical illness or disability, subject to guardianship;

(7) To qualify assignees, appoint and qualify trustees and commissioners of insolvents, control their conduct, and settle their accounts;

(8) To authorize the sale of lands, equitable estates, or interests therein, and assignments of inchoate dower in such cases of sale, on petition by executors, administrators, and guardians;

(9) To authorize the completion of real contracts on petition of executors and administrators;

(10) To issue writs of habeas corpus, and determine the validity of the caption and detention of persons brought before it on the writs. The probate court may refer a petition for a writ of habeas corpus to the court of common pleas if the petitioner is detained on a charge, indictment, or conviction of having committed a felony or misdemeanor under the laws of the United States of this state, or under an ordinance of any political subdivision of this state.

(11) To construe wills;

(12) To render declaratory judgments, including, but not limited to, those rendered pursuant to section 2107.084 of the Revised Code;

(13) To direct and control the conduct of fiduciaries and settle their accounts;

(14) To authorize the sale or lease of any estate created by will if the estate is held in trust, on petition by the trustee;

(15) To terminate a testamentary trust in any case in which a court of equity may do so;

(16) To hear and determine actions to contest the validity of wills;

(17) To make a determination of the presumption of death of missing persons and to adjudicate the property rights and obligations of all parties affected thereby;

(18) To hear and determine an action commenced pursuant to section 3107.41 of the Revised Code to obtain the release of information pertaining to the birth name of the adopted person and the identity of his biological parents and biological siblings.

(Editor's note: Normal schools derived their name from the French ecole normale. These institutions originated in France; the idea behind normale was that they were intended to establish "norms" or standards upon which all later schools would be patterned. The first normal school in the U.S. was in Vermont in 1823. The one in St. Paris ended in 1925, "presumably a casualty of stricter requirements and increasing college attendance.")

MARRY-GO-ROUND

by Bernard R. DeRemer

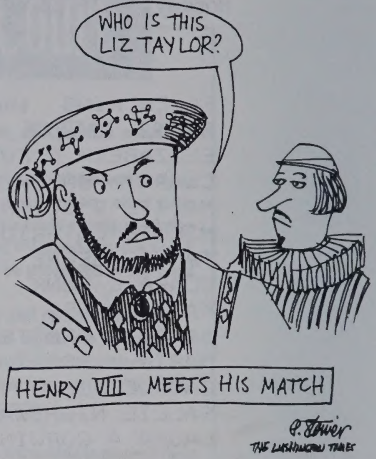
ELIZABETH TAYLOR may or may not be the actress who, when asked whether she was married, replied "Occasionally."

She certainly fits. As everyone except perhaps a Stone Age survivor must know, she recently tripped to the altar for the eighth time. Michael Jackson's ranch provided the "fairy tale setting" (not to say carnival atmosphere), with former U.S. Presidents, movie stars, and other celebrities galore.

Taylor, 59, married Larry Fortensky, 39, a construction worker she met at the Betty Ford clinic. He is a "twice married former truck driver with three arrests for drunk driving and one for marijuana possession."

When she wed Nicholas Hilton (way back in 1950), Liz's mother declared, "This will be the first and last marriage for both of them." Another clouded, or cracked, crystal ball; they split the following year. "A girl has a right to change her mind, doesn't she?"

Peter Steiner



WHO IS THIS LIZ TAYLOR?
HENRY VIII MEETS HIS MATCH
P. Steiner
THE WASHINGTON TIMES

Reprinted with permission

The legendary Liz was brought up in the Church of England; converted to Judaism; received communion in the Episcopal Church; and has attended Catholic mass. As Vance Havner so aptly observed, "It never hurts to change the labels on an empty bottle."

Her needlepoint pillow reportedly reads, "It's not the having, it's the getting." Someone proposed that her vows should read, " . . . to have and to hold, from this day forward, or until dessert is served." Or: "I do, I did, I've done." Another suggestion was towels inscribed "Liz" and "What's His Name."

Still, the much-married matron is not yet close to setting any records. Nor did Tommy Manville, with 13 weddings before he shuffled off this mortal coil in 1967.

Glynn "Scotty" Wolfe, 81, earned a listing in Guinness Book of World Records for marrying "more than anyone else in the monogamous world." In July 1990 he reportedly was planning to "divorce his 27th wife and marry her 15-year-old sister." His 41 children may make him one of the most prolific papas since Solomon.

The fate of all the wives was not readily available (could Wolfe have played Bluebeard a few times?), but the same reference work credits Mrs. Beverly Avery, a Los Angeles barmaid, with a "monogamous world record in October 1957 by obtaining her 16th divorce."

Imagine trying to prepare a genealogical chart for any of the above!

While these exercises in legalized adultery are extreme cases, they nevertheless provide a grim commentary on the times, when divorce is skyrocketing and marriage has been called "obsolete," the family "in danger." The frantic, frustrated pursuit of happiness in one union after another emphasizes the emptiness and futility of life apart from a vital relationship with the Lord Jesus Christ, in Whom alone is "fullness of life." Nowhere is this better demonstrated than the woman at the well in John 4; a succession of husbands and at least one other partner had not met her deepest needs. Jesus Himself did, permanently quenching her thirst.

TRANSFORMING OF AMERICA

The New York Times reviewed major U.S. developments during the last half century; here are a few highlights:

In 1940, 23% of Americans lived on farms. "Now, with the vast majority in cities and suburbs, the figure is 2%."

Then major coffin nail manufacturers sold 16 brands, including Spud, Lucky Strike, and Old Gold. Now, "though the number of smokers declines daily," Madison Avenue madness markets "276 brands, including 13 varieties of Marlboro alone." (Barnum was right!)

Here are other significant indicators:

	1940	Current
Telephones	41,100,000	151,000,000
Radio stations	862	8,942
Automobiles produced	2,975,165	7,110,728
Magazines	460	2,160
Divorces	250,000	1,190,000

The Times notes that in spite of Americans' "stubborn independence" and resistance to regimentation, they have accepted Social Security numbers and credit cards, for convenience and efficiency. (A few holdouts still inveigh against this "outrage.")

The article concludes: "Just since the 1940 census, America has doubled, all right. It has also been transformed."

Columbus is rich in records

By Joy Wade Moulton
For The Dispatch

Columbus rates high among U.S. cities in the number of repositories with significant genealogical collections. There is literally "something for everyone." This survey will give the principal features of each library listed.

● State Library of Ohio, 65 S. Front St., 11th floor. Hours: 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Thursday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m Friday. Closed weekends. No admission charge.

Among the highlights of this collection are the extant federal census schedules on microfilm for all states through 1850, and Ohio 1860-1910. Printed indexes are available through 1850, plus microfilm indexes for 1880, 1900 and 1910. Printed sources for Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee, Vermont and the 13 original colonies are readily accessible in open stacks.

● Ohio Historical Society, 17th Ave. at I-71. Hours: 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday, closed Sunday and Monday.

Ohio history and genealogy are equally dominate in these collections. The most complete holdings of Ohio newspapers are located here, and there is an extensive number of Ohio county histories and atlases. The surname card index to county histories is complete to 1936. Central Ohio county courthouse records are in the archives, as well as manuscript copies of the WPA surveys made in the early 1940s.

● The Ohio State University Main Library. Vacation hours: 7:45 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday through Friday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, 1 to 6 p.m. Sunday; term hours: 7:45 a.m. to midnight Monday through Friday (weekend hours not yet listed).

Stacks are open, but only faculty, students and friends of the library can check out books.

An extensive map collection includes U.S. geological survey maps, and there is a large number of county histories for all states. Major newspapers of various U.S. cities are on microfilm and there is an extensive collection of English publications, including the Victoria County Histories, Harleian Society Visitations, British Record Society Index Library and serials of various county record societies.

● Public Library of Columbus and Franklin County, 96 S. Grant St. Hours: 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Thursday, 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Friday and Saturday, 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday.

The greatest concentration of genealogical holdings pertain to Ohio and Columbus. By using the FHLC, copies of microfilm can be ordered on interlibrary loan for use at the Family History Center for a fee.

With the Comer family there came in 1810 Jacob Maggert and Jacob Judy with their families. Maggert entered the south east quarter of Section 7, Judy taking up land in Section 1. Judy and his wife died on this farm but their children all left the county. Maggert was the one who died of small pox but left a large family of descendants.

In 1811 Joseph Kizer with wife and two children settled near Millerstown on a quarter secton in Section 8. There were numerous others who settled in and around the Nettle Creek Valley, to mention a few; Brubaker, Norman, Pence, Barger, Jenkins, Bodey and Heck. This was without doubt a Virginia settlement, nearly every one of the families having been native of that state. Millerstown was laid out in 1837 by Christian Miller and it soon became a thriving village. Previous to the platting of Millerstown the community had a post office called Nettletown, on the original Johnson land. This place had been the site of an Indian Village, there having been 13 abandoned Indian houses on the place when Johnson came in 1802.

and "the livin' is easy . . . "

IT'S VACATION TIME! I'm really looking forward to summer and sunshine. I hope you are ready to get in some genealogical research.

Our society sent sample books to the OGS state convention with our regional representative, Alice Baker. We are trying to get out our books for people to view and purchase. Much hard work goes into preparing the information to publish. Other opportunities are coming up to sell our books; if you will help, please contact me.

- Would you like to have some subject discussed at a meeting?
- Are there questions you need answered or do you have a method of doing something you could share with us?
- What do you as a member want at meetings?
- Are we as a board meeting your needs?

Please communicate with us about this.

HELP WANTED

If you have any time to volunteer, some records need to be copied and organized to publish or preserve. Are you interested? Do you have any organizational records that need to be in our archives? Am I asking too many questions??

I hope you're making use of our material in the St. Paris Library, on E. Main St. We continually add new purchases. There is a quiet work place, a copy machine is available, and restaurants are nearby. It is open 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday-Friday, and 9 to 5 on Saturday.

We look forward to fall when our new schedule of meetings begins. Plan to be with us whenever you can.

President's Corner

WHERE DID summer go? We all seem to be asking this. I hope you accomplished some of your research goals. Did you set some--short term or long term? This was asked in a workshop Nancy Weatherhead and I attended in July for chapter officers and others interested. It was very informative; many traded ideas. We aim to put some of them to use with our chapter.

Our board accepted with deepest regrets the resignation of newsletter editor Bernard DeRemer. He has faithfully prepared the newsletter for six years and feels it's time for a new face [and new activities!]. However, we still expect him to continue with his fine articles in the newsletter. Thank you, Bernard, for all your outstanding work! (Now where's that new face?)

I thank those who communicated with us last month; we appreciate your input, and are grateful for the donations of family histories for our library.

At the workshop I received an OGS flyer on its Ohio Church Survey Project, to include every church and religious organization, past and present, in the state: Details on types of records, name and address of the record keeper, and other info that will assist the researcher to locate and use church records.

$$$. Unfortunately dues do not cover newsletter subscriptions (printing and postage costs constantly increase). Reluctantly the board approved new rates effective Jan. 1, 1994: $8 single, $10 family. This is still a real bargain; we hope you will continue your membership and support.

CCGS wants to get ahead by including the 9-digit Zip codes on our address labels. Do you know yours? You can find it often on the label of publications--or bills. If you don't locate it, ask your post office.

Then please send it to us! When you renew your membership in December or January, just add the number to your Zip code. Thanks for doing this; it would be very time consuming for us to look up every one.

We invite you on our November tour to the Ohio Historical Society Library in Columbus: Saturday, Nov. 13, 9 a.m. If you've never been there, this is the time to go. Let Amy Dodd know if you plan to go and want to car caravan.

In September Diane Van Skiver Gagel discussed "Hidden or Rarely Used Genealogical Resources." We have an outline of these sources in twp., county, state, and national records. I hope you didn't miss this. Diane is chairperson of the OGS board and has held a number of other offices in that organization. We really appreciate her sharing this.

Have a wonderful and productive autumn. If you see me, please make yourself known; I'm still learning names and faces.

AHNENTAFEL CHART---The word 'ahnentafel'means ancestor. This type of chart is a list-style version of a pedigree chart. To use this chart to find the number of an individual: double the number to the left of his or her name. To find the number of a man's wife, add one. Example--father of #2 John B Schultz is #4 John F Schultz; wife of John F Schultz is #4 plus 1 [#5] Gertrude Reiger. Omission of a number means ancestor unknown.

Vol. III; #9 "MAD-RIVER COURANT" January 1987

EDITOR'S NOTE

I'd like to wish everyone a Happy New Year, and a prosperous Genealogy 1987!

As you can see, this is our 3rd year, and we are doing very nicely. The Centennial Newspaper reprint was a success, and are still available. If you don't have yours yet, be sure to order one today. I myself gave several for Christmas presents to neices and nephews to use in their History Classes, and to friends and relatives for good reading. They will be on Sale for the month of FEBRUARY, for $3.00, plus 1.80 postage, and Ohio residents add 6% (.30¢) sales tax. So buy yours during February and save $2.00.

Due to lack of help, we were unable to furnish an index to the 1986 issues, at this time. Hopefully one will be ready by the next newsletter mailing.

Be sure to send in your free queries. And if you've already sent in a chart, and wondering why it hasn't been printed yet, it will be. I can only put in 6-8 per newsletter, and they come in fast! We have over 200 members now, but they will all be printed, unless you have failed to give written permission on them to print. I will furnish a list of those people in the next newsletter.

* It looks like we genealogists are not the only ones who complain/ed about newspapers not putting all the obit & marriage notices in.

 NEW MEMBERS ***

Welcome to the Chapter!!! We wish you a prosperous-genealogical hunt! Remember, material contributions are welcome and greatly appreciated. Be sure to include written permission to print, and the date submitted. Send in you FREE QUERIES.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER [illegible]

☞ We wish it to be distinctly understood that we publish Obituary and Marriage notices gratis, and when they do not appear in our columns, it is because the friends have not furnished us the names, dates and ages. Reflections are not unfrequently cast upon us for neglect in these matters. It would afford us pleasure to publish all the deaths and marriages that take place in the county, but we can't spare the time to run round and gather them up. Are we understood?

CHURCHES OF CHAMPAIGN COUNTY

Taken from the "History of Champaign County, Ohio", by Judge Evan P. Middleton, Vol. 1, 1917, pps. 433-529. Continued from Oct 1986 Newsletter issue, Vol. 11,#8.

DISCONTINUED AND DORMANT CHURCHES

(Christian churches)

BETHEL CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Early in the last century a very prominent man whose name was Barton W. Stone was a preacher of the Christian church in Kentucky. It was he who stood as a champaion of the people who were rising in rebellion against a growing ecclesiasticism in the church. From his church came a colony of citizens to this section of the country about 1814. Meetings were at first held in the forests, but in almost a year a church was formally organized and a meeting house, one of the very first in this part of the country, was erected. The members entered into a covenant.

The following list of charter members contains the names of many of the pioneers who were most influential in every righteous enterprise: Richard Clark, James McIlvain, Thomas Baird, John Wall, Robert Crockett, Wm. The religious importance of this church, commonly known as the Muddy Run Church, is shown by the fact that for many years it was the only church in the country near where West Liberty now is. People came for miles from every direction to attend divine services there in the old log meeting house.

GLADY CREEK CHURCH

The congregation at Glady Creek began holding services in the school house just across the road from where the church was later built as early as 1841. In 1842 the church was organized. In 1844 the first log church building was completed and occupied by the congregation. This stood for about 20 yrs. until it caught fire during a series of special meetings and burned to the ground. For some months the congregation were compelled to hold their meetings in the grove, until a new frame building was erected on the site of the old one the following year. This structure, which was a very good one for those days, was used for a meeting house for more than fify years, or until the congregation united with the West Libery Church in 1912. Some very strong characters have been found in the Glady Creek church, among whom are Henry Hanger, Wm. Stewart, Peter Hanger, Wm. Chrockett.

A partial list of pastors who preached to the two congregations follows: Elder Fuson, Elder Linn, Rev. H.Y. Rush, Rev. C.T. Emmons, Elder Lawrence, Gade, Elder Spade, Rev. W.H. Thompson, Rev. L.W. Ryan, Rev. F.McCague, Rev. B.F.Clayton, Rev. J.E. Kauffman and Rev. E.C. Kerr.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH, WOODSTOCK

The Christian church at Woodstock is in a rather feeble condition. The membership from the time of organization has never been very large and now it has dwindled to twelve or fourteen active members. The church is now without the services of a pastor and the property belongs to the church conference. Ministers who have served the congregation within the last few years are: Rev. F.G. Strickland, Rev. F.O. Snyder and Rev. Duckworth.

(United Brethren Churches)

UNITED BRETHREN CHURCH AT CARYSVILLE

This society was organized by Rev. Wm. Miller in 1848 with the following charter members: John Rusk, Mary Halterman, Allen Halterman, Mercy Halterman, John G. Wilkinson & Susan Wilkinson. A Sunday school was organized the same year, of which John Rusk was made the superintendent, a position which he held for many years. Shortly after the organization of the church, a church house was erected with a seating capacity of five hundred. The church enjoyed an active existence until it was merged with the Antioch society in 1899, forming the church at Rosewood.

ANTIOCH UNITED BRETHREN CHURCH

The Antioch United Brethren church, in Adams twp., was organized about 1854 by James Wilkinson with fifteen charger members. A church house was built on section 6 immediately after the organization of the society, and was dedicated by Rev. William Miller.

The church played an important part in the religious life of the community during its existence. In the beginning of 1899, it was merged with the Carysville society to form a church at Rosewood.

ZION UNITED BRETHREN CHURCH

The Zion United Brethren church, located near Rosewood in Adams twp., was organized several decades ago, but it is now nearly extinct. The church belongs to the more radical school of the United Brethren denomination.

PRESIDENT'S CORNER

Summer is finally here. Many of you will try to include in your vacation, a little time for some research. If you are planning a trip to this area, drop us a post card, and we will try and be of any assistance we can to you, such as finding old cemeteries, etc. As many of you know, I work as a Deputy Clerk in the Probate office of the Court House. I'd be happy to assist you in any manner.

At our June 10th meeting, we had the drawing for the raffle. At this time, I'd like to thank everyone who participated with this or gave cash donations in place of selling the raffle tickets. Here are the winners:

1st Place: James Compton, of Urbana, $212.10

2nd Place: Bob Deming, of Spring Lake, Michigan, $106.05

3rd Place: Richard L. Salzer, of Knox, Indiana, $35.35

The Winners for selling the most raffle tickets were the following:

1st.: Sue Heatherly Birt, selling 83 tickets, getting one free year subscription to Everton's Genealogical Helper.

2nd: Julie Borror, selling 24 tickets, getting one free year membership to the Champaign County Genealogical Society.

The total gross income from the raffle was $707.00. We netted $260.74 for the Society, bringing our treasury to a balance of $581.84.

Mr. Cox was our guest speaker for the June 10th meeting. He gave a very informative talk on Indians of Ohio. He had on display, many Indian artifacts and even talked a little bit in the Indian tongue. It was our best attended meeting this year.

The Convention, held in May, at Columbus, was very nice. We were able to meet many out-of-town members and picked up many helpful suggestions from the other Chapters. One of the highlights of course, was receiving our Chapter's Charter. Both the Charter and the picture of the members who were present, will be framed, and kept at the Champaign County Historical Society Museaum.

Last June 22 & 23rd, we scheduled a work day at Harbour North Cemetery, located in Concord Twp. It rained Saturday, but we worked all day Sunday. The Urbana Citizen came and took down some history of those buried there. We will publish our findings in our next newsletter. We hope to finish it up one day next weekend.

Plans are being made for a one-day research trip to the Columbus Historical Society Library, as a group. Exact plans will be discussed at the July 8th meeting. Let us know NOW if you are interested. Only cost we expect will be for gas mileage.

At this time, I'd also like to again thank Roger Bollinger, for his time and efforts to running this newsletter off for us. Without him, we may not have had one.

GOOD LUCK WITH ALL YOUR GENEALOGICAL SEARCHES!

PRESIDENT'S CORNER

It's hard to believe that summer is over. I'm looking forward to the slower pace that comes with winter, and catch up on some of my own correspondence.

Due to personal problems, the board found it necessary to request Julie Borror's resignation in office positions as Secretary and Corresponding Secretary, this past July. Pat Stickley accepted the Appointment as Corresponding Secy., and Ms. LaMar Lame, as Recording Secy, for the remainder of this year. Both are doing a GREAT job, and I'd like to thank them for filling these executive positions.

As you can see from pages 49-52, we have been very busy in restoring an old cemetery, located in Concord Twp. You will also find the readings of this cemetery within. Several stones were found underground, and only detectable by the presence of a footmarker, which had no headstone. By using a pitch-fork, one is able to determine if a stone is just under the surface, or up to abt. 12" deep, without too much chance of damaging the stone or digging the ground up needlessly.

IF YOU ARE MOVING, PLEASE REMEMBER TO SEND US YOUR FORWARDING ADDRESS. THE NEWSLETTER WILL NOT BE FORWARDED AUTOMATICALLY, AS IT IS 3rd CLASS MAIL.

Mr. Voigt was the guest speaker for our September 9th meeting and spoke on early Lutheran Church records. We were able to learn where some of the defuct church records may be--Wittenburg College, in Springfield, Ohio. Everyone thoroughly enjoyed his talk.

We are starting some publication projects. One, a Membership Surname Directory, which we hope to have available by December 1985 (see page 48 for more details). Two map projects are also being done, and should also be available by December of this year. We are having some brochures printed, just in time for the Annual Oktoberfest, held at the Historical Society Museum, 6 October 1985. Roger & Phyliss Bollinger did a fine job designing the brochures.

On Sep 7th, a group of members van-pooled to the Ohio Historical Library in Columbus for a day of research. On the way home, we stopped at a very old cemetery, located in Union Co., on Rosedale Rd., just south of St. Rt. 161. Many were dated ca 1820's and very legible. This cemetery is to signify the "Prarie" region. We hope to plan more field trips to other libraries in the future.

Officer elections will be coming up in November. At this time, I'd like to wish a "Good-Luck" to whomever may be elected. Don't forget about membership renewal either. See page 62. Good luck with all your searches. It has been quite an experience as being this Chapter's first President.

OBITUARY, from the 1863 Urbana Newspaper

At his residence in Concord Township, on the 26th inst., Mr. Jesse HARBOR, aged 76 years, died.

The deceased was one of the pioneer settlers of this county, and has always sustained the character of a good citizen. He was married twice, and was the father of thirty-one (31) children--the youngest of whom is about two years old. By industry and economy, he has managed to give all his children, who have lived to maturity, an outfit of 80 acres of land. Mr. H. was a remarkable man. Blessed with a strong constitution, he retained his physical vigor and mental faculties to a remarkable degree, and after a few days illness, was gathered to his fathers. SOLDIERS OF THE REVOLUTION.

THE Sons of the Revolution of Columbus, Ohio, have furnished the following list of such soldiers, who lived in Fairfield County. We have not attempted to verify the list, but take it for granted that it is substantially correct. There are other names that we believe properly belong to this list—Rev. John Wiseman, buried at New Salem; James Holmes, buried at Wells graveyard, Licking County, and Gen. James Wells, buried at the Wells graveyard, near Hooker. William McFarland, father of the late Walter McFarland, buried at Wells graveyard. The descendants of these men claim with confidence that they were soldiers under Washington; but we have not the data to verify it; also, Michael Rice, of Hocking township. Emanuel Ruffner was a teamster in the war of the revolution.

Dr. Robert Wilcox was a surgeon in the Revolution; John and George Hill, both died in Walnut township: Rev. Cradlebaugh, of Rush Creek township.

THE FOLLOWING IS THE SONS OF THE REVOLUTION OF COLUMBUS LIST.

Dear Lester and Lucy :

This is a belated response to your letter of last September. Belated, because I have been working in Champaign and Logan Counties on William H. and Archibald Washington. I even joined the Champaign County Genealogical Society so I could place queries in their newsletter. I also joined the Ohio Genealogical Society and for the same reason.

The information you sent regarding your family I have put into the computer- I enclose print-outs.Please send corrections if I have messed it up.

Do you know of any living descendants of George Washington Valentine in your area ? I have had little luck in finding them. He was my grandfather's brother; both sons of Archibald Nelson Valentine. This side of the family used to have annual family reunions , their location alternating between Indiana and Michigan. The reunions stopped back in the fifties.

I will keep you informed of any progress.

Best wishes.

AIR FORCE OFFICER KILLED IN ACTION

Lieutenant Jacob Piatt Had Won Air Medal Overseas.

First Lieutenant Jacob I. Piatt, jr., was killed in action July 21 in France, according to a War Department telegram received Sunday by his wife, who resides in Canton.

The message stated that a letter would follow giving more detailed information.

Lieutenant Piatt was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob I. Piatt, R. F. D. I, East Liberty. He was a graduate of the Pemberton High School with the class of 1938 and was employed in Sidney in October, 1940, at the time of the mobilization of the 112th Medical Regiment of the Ohio National Guard, of which he was a member. Lieutenant Piatt later transferred to Sidney unit of the 148th Infantry Regiment and was later commissioned in the Army Air Force.

Lieutenant Piatt had been overseas since December, 1943 and was stationed in England until a few weeks after D-Day at which time he was moved into France. He was serving with a Tactical Reconnaissance Squadron. He had been awarded the Air Medal and Silver Oak Leaf Clusters for previous heroic service with the Army.

A two-year-old daughter, Gretta, remains with his wife and parents as do two brothers, Private Ben S. Piatt, of Camp Hood, Texas, who was inducted July 22, 1944, and Robert Piatt, of Springfield; and two sisters, Mrs. Robert Reed, of Urbana, and Miss Betty Jane Piatt, at home.

An aunt, Mrs. Carl Gray, and an uncle, John A. Piatt, reside in West Liberty, while another uncle, Ralph Piatt, formerly of West Liberty, is serving in the U. S. Navy.

Munda–Bairoko Trail was of vital importance to the enemy, for he intended to use it for the reinforcement of Munda. By leaving Kolombangara at night (by now no Jap shipping could move in Kula Gulf by day) and landing at Bairoko, replacements could reach Munda by early evening. Closing the trail compelled the Japs to use the water route exposed to American naval and air units during the day.

The roadblock was soon doing business. The Japs at Bairoko Harbor, unaware of the presence of the 148th Infantry in the jungle, ran into the ambush. A carrying party, with bags of rice and ration boxes, walked straight into the trap. Fifteen Japs were killed and the trail littered with welcome supplies. Ripping open the ration boxes, the American troops found that they were full of California canned salmon, a tasty addition to their fast-diminishing food supplies.

Now that the Japs knew the Americans were there, they staged two fierce assaults on the roadblock. One attack came along the trail from the north, drove in the outpost and inflicted the first fatality of the campaign on the battalion, Pvt. William E. Kuckne of Company I, 148th Infantry. Kuckne, a member of the outpost, was the first to sight the attackers and cut loose with his '03. Covering the withdrawal of the outpost, Kuckne held them off until his ammunition ran out and then, charged by four Japs with bayonets, he met them, using his rifle as a club. He was finally bayoneted to death by the screaming Japanese, but not before his buddies had escaped. Kuckne's valor saved the eleven men of the outpost.

The Nips had the outpost but their victory was short-lived. Two U.S. platoons drove their way back to the original positions. The enemy force, not quite satisfied with the day's progress, took one last crack at the block at dusk, a crack that cost them forty dead.

On the 10th of July the enemy made four light feeler attacks against the block's perimeter, probing for a weak spot, and later in the afternoon made an all-out assault that carried them into the perimeter as far as the battalion command post. This was a nerve-blasting Banzai attack. When the attack ceased the Jap held half of the north ridge and the center gulch. With darkness only one hour away, a counterattack, led by Capt. Vernon McMillan, drove them back until they held only 150 yards of the north ridge.

During the assault, S/Sgt. Chick Kettler was painfully wounded but refused to withdraw. He had spotted the location of an enemy machine gun. He staggered to within twenty feet of the weapon, threw two grenades and destroyed the emplacement and its four crewmen. Then as he turned he was hit and killed by a burst of machine-gun fire. Lt. Jim Flynn, way out in front, was hit in the right shoulder. He spent the night in a small Japanese foxhole, shoving his handkerchief into the wound to stop the bleeding. The next morning he staggered back, weak but still resilient. He protested volubly as he was evacuated from the island.

The last attack came that night, aimed at the Company I sector, but it failed and the Japs pulled out leaving the roadblock intact.

A native carrying party arrived on the 13th and carried out twenty-eight wounded men, some of whom had been hit five days before. Capt. Ben Fenischel's medical supplies were depleted as the accumulation of casualties had transformed his front-line aid station into a hospital. To halt infection, Fenischel looked to the native medicine men rather than to the Mayo Clinic by successfully employing maggots in many wounds. Maggots could be easily obtained and no one had to hand-carry them over tortuous jungle trails. Simply by exposing the wounds to the ever present flies, Fenischel had introduced a primitive, nauseating, yet effective antiseptic. Startlingly enough, these maggots saved lives.

Meanwhile, back at the anchorage, the 3d Battalion of the 145th Infantry, less Companies K and L, was having trouble. Heavy field pieces, emplaced at the enemy's stronghold and supply point at Bairoko Harbor, hammered the American installations, and angry Zeros clawed the beachhead with machine-gun fire and nerve-wracking bombs. With a small sector to concentrate on and a lot of time to do the concentrating, the Nip airmen dove mercilessly on the little holding party.

Meanwhile Companies K and L of the 145th Infantry group were also learning the arts of the jungle rat. A rain-drenched path wound through hip-deep, malaria-infested swamps and up black, mud-caked hills, through bogs and strangling vine entanglements. A fourth of the way to the objective, the original native trail disappeared completely. The troops crossed the Enogai and Giza-Giza rivers and finally reached the north bank of the Tamuhan River. They bivouacked on the night of July 7 at Maranusa-One and the next day Companies K and L, 145th Infantry, jumped off for Triri, a well fortified village on the outskirts of Dragon's Peninsula. In a skirmish with the enemy, Capt. Clifford W. Morrow, commanding Company L, dashed forward under fire to rescue the commanding officer of Company K and a Marine officer, who had been wounded and who were lying exposed to hostile fire. Dragging them to the shelter of a log he carried them separately to the rear.

On the 8th they reached Triri and as Company K moved into its designated line on the perimeter it was struck by a strong Japanese naval landing force. The action was essentially a meeting engagement in the dense jungle. An intense fire fight continued for some forty-five minutes with repeated attacks being driven off. When the battle had subsided it was found that 120 Japanese had been killed with American casualties of only four wounded. This was the first decisive combat of the 145th Infantry, and Company K was cited for its outstanding performance.

The Navy too was busy and, on the 13th of July, fought the second battle of Kula Gulf. Again intercepting the Tokyo Express the American ships disposed of the enemy in two groups. The first enemy group was badly shot up and one cruiser was probably sunk. The second group, however, inflicted considerable damage on our forces; the cruisers St. Louis and Honolulu were damaged by torpedoes, and the destroyer Gwin was set on fire and had to be sunk. The New Zealand cruiser, Leander, which had accompanied the Division to Fiji, suffered a torpedo hit while engaged with the first enemy group. The two engagements in the Kula Gulf were costly, but they removed the threat of naval action by the enemy which might have jeopardized our landing on the north coast of New Georgia. Furthermore, they effectively prevented the Japanese from using the Kula Gulf route to supply and reinforce their garrison at Vila and Munda.

In the confused movements of the campaign on the Bairoko Trail, two factors must be remembered in order to understand the situation: the first was the difficulty of supply on the north shore and through the jungle trails; the second was the wavering tide of the big battle as it shifted around Munda airstrip. From the 5th of July until the 1st of August, the Japs were confident of victory and fought hard all up the trail; after the fall of Munda their problem was to get away. This back-door expedition then was a part of a larger show and the relationship was closer than it appeared at the time.

The trail block was named Starvation Ridge. Food soon became the main enemy. No food supplies had been brought up since the landing. Requests for airdrops had often met with postponements. Many parachute drops were misplaced. Pyrotechnics could not be fired in the jungle to an effective height to locate friendly positions, and many of the drops fell into Japanese hands. Steadily the meals decreased from three heavy and three light cans of C ration a day to a small can of cheese, two inches in diameter, and a thumb-sized cracker. Here is the day-by-day hunger picture: on July 8, one-ninth K ration and one-ninth D bar per man; on the 10th and 11th, two-ninths K ration; on July 12, one-twelfth K ration; July 13, five ounces of rice (brought by the same natives who evacuated the casualties); and on July 14, one-eighteenth K ration.

Doc Fenischel had been harassing the 148th's Major Jim Gall to order the men not to eat jungle cabbage leaves, which he claimed gave them dysentery. At the height of the starvation period, Fenischel, now gaunt and emaciated, limped up to Gall: "Major, have you issued those orders not to eat cabbage leaves. I have asked you to do so three or four times." Gall replied, a bit guiltily: "No, Doc, not yet." "Good," said Fenischel, as he ran out to devour his own carefully guarded stock.

On the 15th, six parachutes floated down. They were too far over on the Jap side. The Japs got three of them, the Americans the other three. The first two opened by the Americans contained ammunition, and rusty small-arms ammunition at that. The third landed in a tree a hundred feet in the air. Pfc. Oscar W. Patterson won the Bronze Star climbing that tree with two Jap snipers potting at him while he released the bundle. It contained precious food!

In spite of the low larder the trail block began to entertain company. During the attack of July 10 Company I of the 145th Infantry was ordered to make a forced march to aid in the defense and arrived there in time to help clear out the Japs who were concentrated before the block, killing fifteen Japs in the action. Then Company K, 145th Infantry, which had been with the Raider group, was moved to the roadblock. On the 16th, the commanding officer of the 1st Marine Raider Regiment, escorted by a detail from Headquarters Company of the 145th Infantry, moved from Triri to the trail block. On the 17th, the commanding officer ordered the abandonment of the trail block because of the difficulties of supply and the whole force moved to Maranusa-One and then on to Triri.

emplaced in the center of the structure were five 100-pound bombs. The crossing was effected through a narrow lane on one side of the bridge. Following the bridge crossing, the company continued its advance toward Jones Bridge. Enemy machine guns were emplaced on all sides and at street intersections, and were supported by rifles and mortars. At 1430 the enemy, despairing of stopping the advance of our troops by the use of weapons, set fire to the buildings on the right flank and directly in front of Company K. Most of the large buildings had previously been mined and prepared for demolition by the Japanese. Aided by a favorable wind, the flames soon engulfed several city blocks to the front and right flank of the company.

It was at this time that Lt. Bob Viale, leading the point platoon of the 3d Battalion advance, displayed his famed brand of selfless heroism. Viale had personally accounted for two Japanese pillboxes and directed a rocket launcher on a third during the progress of his lead platoon across the Estero de la Reina bridge. When the orders came to drop back, he found that Japanese machine gun positions dominated all routes of withdrawal. Sneaking cat-like into a building behind several of these pillboxes, Viale maneuvered his platoon into a room which overlooked the Nip emplacements. With grenade in hand, he climbed up a ladder toward a small window and prepared to flip the grenade through this window down onto the enemy. Wounded in the arm earlier, Viale slipped as he was about to throw, and the grenade plopped to the floor. He jumped down from the ladder, picked up the now armed grenade and looked around the room for some place to throw it. His own men were all over the building, and rather than endanger them, he ran into the corner of the room, put the grenade into his stomach, doubled up and waited. The explosion killed him but none of the other men were touched. Viale was awarded the Medal of Honor posthumously.

By this time the other elements of the company, led by Captain Knipp, had penetrated more than two city blocks into the raging inferno.

The attack progressed toward the Pasig River under steadily increasing Japanese rocket, mortar, and machine gun fire.

During the afternoon another conflagration developed in the Escolta district, the area of steel-and-concrete skyscrapers, business buildings and hotels. While a number of fires had already been started by the Japanese throughout the city, the first large-scale deliberate destruction was now evident in Escolta, where the retreating Japanese not only started many fires but were demolishing the heart of the business district with time-fused explosions.

Captain Glen Hesson's Company I, 148th Infantry, reached a point two hundred yards from the Pasig River at 1230 on February 6, but so intense was the heat from the fires in all the buildings along the street block that it was forced to withdraw two hundred yards. The evening and night were spent picking off Japanese snipers silhouetted against the fiery background. The withdrawal was accomplished against stubborn opposition and succeeded because of epic feats of unselfishness and devotion to duty.

THE early settlers of this township, in common with all pioneers of the county, endured privations and hardships of which those of to-day can have but a faint conception. Under the most favorable circumstances their food was always coarse, often unsavory, and, if accident befell the sources from which they were supplied, scantiness as well as coarseness mingled with their meals. The two principal articles of food upon the tables of the early settlers, were bread and meat. If the bread chanced to be made of wheat flour, and the meat consisted of the flesh of domestic animals, then was the fare considered choice. If the bread was made of corn meal, and the meat was but the flesh of the deer, the bear, or the raccoon, there was no complaining, for in those days they were less concerned about the quality of the food than they were about the quantity. Coffee was scarcely known, except by the name; and tea, if drank at all, was drunk about as frequently as it was by the Whigs of Boston immediately after that article was cast into the harbor from the British ships. In respect to clothing, as well as other necessaries for which the settlers had to depend in whole or in part upon the market, they were about as well provided for as they were in respect to tea and coffee. There were no stores in the vicinity, so that whatever was required beyond what their own hands could supply, was entirely dispensed with, or supplied in a meager manner. The consequence was that the wardrobe of the ladies comported but miserably with their patient and untiring industry. Still all toiled patiently on, looking hopefully forward to a future, when the wild surroundings, the rude log cabins, and the privations of pioneer life should be replaced by the cultivated fields, the substantial homes, the church and the school. That this dream has been fully realized is apparent to even the chance visitant.

In the north we find the Muchinippi Creek, next the Four Mile and Brandywine, and in the extreme south Rum Creek, names which sound odd in the extreme, in a township inhabited by people among whom intemperance is unknown. The surface is undulating, alternate slight elevations, gentle slopes, and low level plains go to make up a whole which presents many attractive features. Faced on his front and right flank by roaring flames, exploding demolitions and gasoline drums, and on his left and rear by the Japanese, Capt. Labin W. Knipp ordered the withdrawal of his company across the Estero de la Reina by the Escolta Avenue bridge.

It was at this time that Lt. Bob Viale, leading the point platoon of the 3d Battalion advance, displayed his famed action of selfless heroism. Viale had personally accounted for two Japanese pillboxes and directed a rocket launcher on a third during the progress of his lead platoon across the Estero de la Reina bridge. His own men were all over the building, and rather than endanger them, he ran into the corner of the room, put the grenade into his stomach, doubled up, and waited. The explosion killed him but none of the other men were touched. Viale was awarded the Medal of Honor posthumously.

By this time the other elements of the company, led by Captain Knipp, had penetrated more than two city blocks into the raging inferno.

The Japanese had machine guns emplaced covering all streets at right angles to the route of withdrawal and the ever-encroaching flames were on the left flank as our troops prepared to move. At this time, the flames were so close that the pavement burned under the feet of the soldiers and exploding buildings rained debris upon them.

Captain Knipp moved among his men, issued orders to his subordinates and encouraged and bolstered the spirits of all the members of his company, making certain that all of the men were placed in covered positions behind walls and houses.

When all preparations were complete, Captain Knipp armed himself with a Browning automatic rifle and three smoke grenades. Striding into the middle of the first intersection, he subjected himself immediately to heavy fire from a Japanese machine-gun emplacement one block to the right.

Spewing fire from the Browning automatic rifle along the entire length of the street, he caused the enemy to cease firing momentarily and seek safety behind the walls of their pillboxes. During the temporary lull, Knipp tossed one of the smoke grenades between himself and the pillbox. As the smoke obscured the Japanese observation, he rushed some of his men across the intersection to the comparative safety of the next block. This operation was repeated until the entire company was evacuated. Meanwhile, the medics were heroically evacuating and caring for the wounded from a forward aid station near the area that was being ravaged by fire and the enemy. Big, blunt Capt. Tom Downey, fiery battalion surgeon, worked in the dark of a shattered building, with only an oil lamp to guide his emergency treatment. He organized litter teams to go out for casualties and to haul the more seriously wounded to the rear. Pfc. William Wagner, litter bearer attached to Company K, made seven separate trips into streets which were engulfed in flames, strewn with mines, and vulnerable to enemy grazing fire to carry the wounded back to the aid station. When the withdrawal was ordered, Downey, Wagner, and other aid men remained at the station until all of the wounded had been cleared.

Two Japanese machine guns, one situated down the street to the left and the other in the street to the right, obstructed the passage of the company through the second intersection. Captain Knipp instructed his men to be ready to move quickly and then, for the second time, stepped out into an open intersection with a Browning automatic rifle and smoke grenades. Wounded in the stomach almost immediately, Knipp refused to seek cover but stayed at his position until the company successfully crossed. Again, he was the last man of the company to cross the street. When the Escolta Avenue bridge was reached, he personally commanded the rear guard of his company until all of his men had safely crossed the bridge and the wounded had been evacuated.

The evening and night were spent picking off Japanese snipers silhouetted against the fiery background

The afternoon was spent by the 145th Infantry in mopping up areas north of the Pasig River on the west side of the Division zone. This mopping up led to a serious engagement in the Tondo district where unexpected resistance was encountered. This consisted of machine guns at street intersections, with covering riflemen, and a small number of artillery pieces. Both the 1st and 2d Battalions made house-to-house advances in Tondo, wiping out pockets of Japs and individual snipers.

Developing the account of the 145th Infantry on this date, the regiment was ordered by Division to contain and by-pass the Japanese forces in the Polo–Dampalit area. The 3d Battalion extended south and effected a night relief of the 2d Battalion there while under a violent attack by an estimated enemy battalion of the Gyoro Base Unit.

Immediately upon its relief the 2d Battalion com-

The timber originally covering the surface of the land consisted largely of oak, beach and ash, with occasionally maple, walnut and wild-cherry. Deer and the smaller kinds of game was plenty, while the wolves, with which the woods fairly swarmed, were an intolerable annoyance, not only destroying the lesser domestic animals whenever opportunity afforded, but attacking travelers when caught abroad after dark. Mr. Dillon relates an incident in which he was personally interested. In the year 1833 he had occasion to visit the Government land office at Wapakonatta. It was a long journey, yet by the aid of a fleet horse he hoped to accomplish it and return the same day; the trip out was made without incident, and in good time. At the office the press of business detained him until nearly night, and he was advised to remain until morning as a storm was coming on, and the road is a difficult one to follow even by daylight. (It was an old army trail, winding about amongst the trees, nearly impassable for teams.) However, the desire to reach home proved greater than the arguments of his friends, and after tightening the saddle-girth and making everything as secure as possible, he started on the return trip. For a few miles he traveled at a rapid pace, but at last the darkness overtook him, and, as predicted, a furious storm ensued, the trace was lost, and after some time vainly spent in trying to regain it, he dismounted to wait for the cessation of the storm and the rising of the moon. The situation was not a cheerful one—lost in the dense woods, miles from a human habitation, and surrounded by wild beasts. However, the solitude of the surroundings was soon relieved by the hoarse cries of wolves. The sounds came rapidly nearer. Cutting a stout club, he awaited the coming of the unwelcome visitors. It was not many minutes ere they were upon him. Planting himself firmly against a huge tree, he struck out at the nearest pair of fiery eyes. A yell, and a sudden retreat of the owner of the eyes, gave proof of the correctness of his aim. This was repeated whenever a wolf came within reach, and in this somewhat lively manner did Mr. Dillon while away the hours, which otherwise would have been weary ones, until the rising of the moon, when, remounting his horse, the path was found and the homeward journey resumed, the wolves the while closely following behind, filling the dim echoes of the woods with their hair-lifting melody(?). They kept close upon the heels of his horse to his very cabin door, which was reached as the first faint streaks of light began to show above the tops of the trees in the east.

The settlement of the township was begun in the southwest corner, on Rum Creek. Along this stream were some small Indian improvements, and upon these two farmers, named Keith and Stewart, removed with their families, not far from the year 1830. As none of the pioneers, who first located in the township, now live here, the writer has depended upon those who came next for the data from which this history is written. Mr. James Dillon and Henry Hone are entitled to our thanks for many items of interest. Mr. Dillon built his log cabin upon the farm he still occupies during the fall of 1833. At this date the following families were living in the township: William Rogers and William Campbell had small improvements in the northeast part. Mr. Campbell lived on the farm now owned by the Huber heirs, his log cabin was near the river, where he kept a rude ferry. In the southeast corner of the township, along Rum Creek, lived Isaac Stockwell, Benjamin Nichols and William Smith. To the westward lived Richard and Isaac Dillon, Thomas Tong, Edward Timmons, Jacob and William Keith, David and William Ashbrook, William and John Schuler, William Moore and Caleb Wright.

These were all the settlers in the township in the year 1833. William Dillon and family, consisting of a wife and five children, arrived in 1834, and made a beginning on the farm now owned by M. Smith. The entire northwestern portion of the township was at this time an unbroken forest. Henry Hone purchased lands in the township in December, 1835; cleared a small piece and built a log cabin during the summer of 1836, and in March, 1837, moved his family into it. Mr. Hone still lives on this property. The forest has, however, disappeared, and by well-directed efforts, broad fields, rich in their wealth of waving grain, have taken its place. The additional settlers who arrived prior to 1836 were: Edward Wren, whose lands adjoined Hone's on the northwest. Immediately south of Campbell's, on the river, lived William Donaldson and Joseph Danielson. John Price occupied the James Spellman farm; John Woodfield and Philip Hoy lived near. John Ellis, [illegible]rge Wolf, the Archers and the Downings, had located near the Rum Creek settlement. William McKinnon subsequently purchased the Campbell farm. Mr. Hone states that when he reached the Miami River, he found it very high, and no other means of crossing than the trunk of a fallen tree; the prospect of reaching the other shore was not particularly flattering. On the bank were a few huts, in which lived a number of half-breed Indians, who came out, but manifested no interest until, on inquiry, they learned that Mr. Hone had a small quantity of spirits in the wagon; this being produced, they assisted readily in effecting a crossing. The goods were unloaded and carried over, the horses swam across, and tieing a bed-cord to the end of the wagon-tongue, it was pulled through, the goods reloaded, and the journey resumed. No charge was made, except a few drinks of of the "whisk," as they termed it. At this time there were no roads, each settler cutting his own, and being governed by the condition of the land, it may be imagined that little attention was paid to the points of the compass. The first duly authorized road was from Bellefontaine to Muchinippi, passing through the northern part of the township. Now well-graded and graveled pikes traverse the township in all directions. The citizens of Bloomfield have depended upon the surrounding country for mills and other needed industries until a recent date. The steam flouring-mill, at Bloom Center, was built by A. Connelly, in 1878. It has two run of stone and is furnished with all the modern appliances. A tile manufactory, at the same point, owned by Bayer & Brother, completes the list of manufactories. As early as 1840, Jonah McFarling, began merchandising, in a little log hut, standing about one mile to the westward of the present hamlet, known as Bloom Center. The stock in trade was mainly whisky, tobacco and tea. A few years subsequent, he erected a small frame building, near the site of the log cabin, and putting in a respectable stock, soon acquired a large patronage. Since this period, the township has not been without a store of some kind. Quite a settlement sprung up at this point. The location of a postoffice was secured over which John Freeman presided. The location was inconvenient, and yet nothing was done toward a better until the fall of 1858, when Andrew Halboth purchased lands and erected the buildings he now occupies as a store and dwelling. Others built near, and Bloom Center became a certainty. At this time it embraces a general store, drug store, two blacksmith shops, flouring mill, tile manufactory, two churches, a school, and three physicians. The present Postmaster is Dr. William McK. Houseman, a rising young physician of the place. Bloom Center Lodge, No. 621, I. O. O. F., which is located here, began work under Dispensation in the summer of 1875, with S. P. Wood, A. Halboth, G. M. Shafer, W. H. Watkins, J. G. Smith and C. W. Davis, as charter members, who became the first officers. The present membership is small. Two societies of the order known as Patrons of Husbandry, or Grangers, have had an existence in the township, but of these the writer has no date.

So soon as the little colony on Rum Creek had provided themselves with comfortable habitations, their attention was directed to the formation of a school, the result of which was the erection of a log building of quite respectable proportions, and a teacher being found, school duly convened. Two or three years later a second schoolhouse was built in the township. This stood on lands now owned by James Spellman. Eber Hodge taught a number of terms in this building. At last the territory was divided into school districts, and a better class of buildings erected. The report of the Board of Education for the school year ending August 31, 1879, gives the following data:

Whole number of children	309
Whole amount paid teachers	$1,090.38
Whole number of schoolhouses	6
Value, with grounds	$1,500.00

In the little log schoolhouse first mentioned, late in the fall of the year 1832, a missionary of that faith who are, as a rule, the advance guard of Christianity in all new countries—Methodism—held the first religious service in the township. The families of David and William Ashbrook, William Keith and Mrs. Timmons soon after united in the formation of a class. In about 1836 a hewed log meeting-house was built, and this was occupied until the completion of the present frame building in 1860. The Methodist Episcopal Church at Bloom Center was formed early in the settlement. The members composing the first class were Michael Rawdon and wife, William Rawdon and wife, George Wolf and wife, Peter Schule and wife, and —— Hendricks and wife. This society met in schoolhouses for several years, eventually erecting the frame church building just west of Bloom Centre, now unused. The society, we learn, have in contemplation the erection of a larger house of worship at an early day.

Early in the year 1854, Rev. Adam Stump, of the German Reformed Church, began a series of meetings at the dwellings of the settlers west of Bloom Center, and about one year subsequent the following persons united in the formation of a church of this denomination: Peter Bruner and family, Henry Smith and wife, Abraham Griffey and wife, John Wagoner and wife, Solomon Garling, and wife and J. M. Smith and wife; two years later they united in the erection of the church edifice at Bloom Centre. This has been recently refitted. The membership of this society now numbers forty. A Sabbath School was organized some years since in connection with this church. This has now a goodly attendance. Some years subsequent to James Dillon's arrival in Bloomfield Township, a hewed log schoolhouse was built on the southwest corner of his farm, and in this, a few years later, the settlers of the different Baptist and Christian denominations, residing in the vicinity, inaugurated a series of union meetings. These were continued for a number of years with a gradually increasing membership. In about 1854, all united in the erection of a meeting-house in the northeast part of the township on the Muchinippi. For a time the society flourished and the membership gradually increased, but of late, from various causes, the interest has abated, and at this time the society has but a small membership and no regular Pastor, local talent occupying the pulpit.

The writer has been unable to secure any data of the organization of the township or its early history, the records having been destroyed. The growth, though slow, has been a healthy one.

The following account of one of those thrillingly sad incidents so common in all pioneer settlements, is from Joshua Antrim's history of Champaign and Logan Counties: "About two miles directly west of Lewistown, on the farm now owned by the heirs of Manassas Huber, in Bloomfield Township, lived Harrison and Christiana Hopkins. Their son, aged about five years, was lost on November 13, 1838.

"Heaven to all men hides the book of fate,
And blindness to the future has kindly given."

* * * * Everything passed off pleasantly till about two o'clock, when Mrs. Hopkins started with her little son to visit a neighbor, a Mr. Rogers, living about a half mile distant. She had to pass by a new house, being built by Charles Cherry, an uncle to the boy. Arriving there, they stopped for a few minutes, and as the boy wished to remain here, the mother passed on. Soon the boy became tired of playing about the house and started to rejoin his mother. As only a dim path led through the intervening timber, Mrs. Cherry cautioned the little fellow to be careful, and not get lost. A little way into the woods, and he sang out: "I can go it now; I have found the path." These were the last words he was ever heard to say. * * * Mrs. Hopkins soon after returned, and enquired for the boy, and learned, to her surprise and terror, that he had followed her. Immediate search was made by the frantic mother and father, and Mr. Cherry, going first to Mr. Rogers' and to another neighbor living but a short distance from him, but no tidings could be had of him. They could see the tracks of his bare feet in the path near the house. * * * Soon the alarm spread far and near, and people collected from all parts of the country to hunt for the child. There were at times over a thousand people engaged in the search, which was continued for three weeks. Every foot of ground for three miles around was scanned. Even the Maimi river was dragged for miles, but in vain—not a trace of him—not even a shred of his clothing could be found anywhere, and to-day his fate remains a profound and melancholy mystery. The opinion generally prevails, however, that the child was stolen by the Indians. Mr. Cherry states that an Indian, who, for many years, had been in the vicinity, engaged in trapping, disappeared about this time and never returned. He was afterwards found, and accused of the abduction of the child, but he resolutely denied all knowledge of the matter.

Bloom Center Is "Hub Of Ohio"

By Erika Fiske

The hub of Ohio and the crossroads of the world, that's how a group of Bloom Center old-timers described their village at a recent gathering there.

"When you see about a dozen sparrows on the telephone pole, you know you're in Bloom Center," Herman Smith added.

Likewise, it is an event if a traveler sees a dozen people from his car window when driving through the community. Of course, that is an advantage and probably the way the 400 plus persons who call Bloomfield township home like it. For the township consists of some of the best farm land in the county, and over the years it has proven fruitful to till every acre that was available.

Exaggerations aside, Bloom Center has a population of about 44 today and was once as high as 100. It is located at the crossroads of County Roads 60 and 21.

Over the years, the community has been listed on maps as Bloomcenter, but recent maps have used the spelling Bloom Center.

According to older, village residents, the Sycamore Gas Co. originated in Bloom Center about 1913 and had more than 10 producing gas wells to the west. Directors included J. M. Darling, Elmer Smith, Phillip Metz, George Schurr and Bill Dalrymple. Sam Ridenour did the drilling.

Villagers recall that the people were scared into selling to Spalding Peck, who then re-sold the company to Dayton Power and Light for a million dollars. One well continues to produce on the J. Ewing Smith property.

The area also had one of the first landing fields in Logan county, on the Dalrymple farm, where as many as 30 planes would land on weekends around 1935, Mrs. Ray Dalrymple said.

But it was during the horse and buggy days that Bloom Center was at its busiest, and people seemed to have the most fun. This was especially true for the Bloom Center "outlaws," young men with names such as Wildermuth, Smith, Knief, Rex and others.

"Their kind of fun didn't cost a nickel," but it didn't destroy anything either, Mr. Dalrymple said.

During one elaborate prank, David Gates' spring wagon was placed on the roof of the village store, while his horse was lifted into the hay mow of a nearby barn.

And the "outlaws" still recall the time Buck Shofner, Oliver Knief and Gail Parmer put a fence post into the W.P.A. toilet of Orville Brandt's outhouse.

Villagers also entertained themselves with nightly card games, a pool table and slot machines at the rear of the local grocery store. Corncobs were burned to keep them warm during the depression days.

George Hone, known as the "chicken man," was the best checker player in Bloom Center and served as township clerk for 58 years.

Most of the socializing was done at the local churches, now closed or gone. Mrs. Herman Smith remembers when the Sunday collection at the Reformed church, which had a large German membership, consisted of no more than 4 to 8 cents on some weekends during the depression years. Now the church serves as a barn on the Dalrymple property.

The church edifice was erected in Bloom Center around 1857, and early members included the Bruners, Smiths, Griffeys, Wagoners, Garlings and Smiths.

The original Methodist church was located ½ mile west of Bloom Center. Mrs. John Wildermuth noted that an 1864 map shows only the church and Halboth's store, before Bloom Center had been named.

Early members of that church included the Rawdon, Wolf, Schule and Hendricks families.

The second Methodist church was constructed in the village and is now used by Frank Smith to store paint. The Rev. B. F. Tucker, grandfather of Clifford Tucker of Township Road 200, preached there and at the new and old Muchinippi churches for years, as well as driving a wagon to Bellefontaine daily to pick up the mail.

"But you didn't touch the legs of those mules, or you got kicked. If one had a stone in its foot, you waited for it to pick up the hoof and then you knocked the rock out with a hammer," Clifford Tucker said.

One of Tucker's grandmothers, Mrs. Mary K. Pence, donated land for both the old and new Muchinippi churches, found north of Bloom Center.

"The oldest of her five children was only 12 when her husband died of T.B. She paid off the 160 acres herself and built a barn and new home to replace the log cabin," he said.

While living on the farm, Tucker recalls "hitching up a calf to the spring wagon. He had never been corralled, so when my cousin Wilbur Pence got in the wagon, that calf took off down the hill, the wagon ran up on him, causing him to fall, and the shafts were driven into the ground, breaking them.

"We put the wagon back in the barn and blamed it on old Joe, a horse that used to get out at night and eat the hay," he said.

Revivals were common in the area, and Tucker remembers attending one at the Methodist church. "I took a jumping jack with me, made out of cardboard, and waited until a couple at the other end of the pew had their mouths full of peanut clusters. Then I pulled it out, and they laughed so hard that the candy went all over the place."

Bloom Center had its serious moments as well. There were many hard working, respected people in the community.

The village had its beginnings in 1840, when Jonah McFaling sold whiskey, tobacco and tea in a log hut one mile west of the present hamlet. He was followed by John Freeman, postmaster, Andrew Halboth, store owner, A. Connelly and his steam flouring mill and Bayer and Brother, tile factory.

According to Herman Smith, the Hall, Halboth, Smith and Wren families were among the first to move to the area, many from Bloomfield township in Pickaway county, and were responsible for naming the village.

An 1890 Logan County Atlas lists property owners in Bloom Center as Hemmelberger, Wilson, Smith, Young, Conley, Pfost, Gurling, Fleming, Bayer, Halboth, Kinnon, Harner and Knief.

Nevin Smith, one of the first grocery store owners and a livestock dealer, was known for driving 40 to 50 head of cattle to Lewistown with a horse and buggy. The horse, "Nellie," would bite the cattle to keep them moving, while a dog kept the other side of the herd under control.

Other general store owners were W. T. Huber, Allen Briggs, William Herring, Orville F. Brandt, Clarence Watkins, Charlie Huber, Hixon and Jess Darling.

"Brandt also ran a huckster wagon with everything on it, including an ice box and cold meat. People hated to see him go," Tucker said.

"Ray Dalrymple's father was a logger and sometimes had four teams hauling lumber. He helped gravel the roads around here."

According to Mrs. Dalrymple, "Clifford Tucker's father, Henry, dug most of the ditches in this part of the county with a spade, over a 50-year period."

John Berline, Tucker's uncle, operated a saw mill and tile factory on the north end of Bloom Center from about 1900 to 1910, but because of the poor clay, he moved it to Cridersville.

"David Bayer moved his tile factory to the south of the village around 1940, when the Findlay Clay Tile Factory bought him out," Tucker said. "Then Bayer re-opened in Lakeview."

Bob and Oliver Valentine ran the local hotel, restaurant and livery stable; Rush Darling operated a restaurant in what is now the bathhouse on the Darling property; blacksmiths included Billy Barnhart, Peck Armintrout and William Herring and the DeGraff Creamery Co. owned a creamery just west of the village.

Francis and Clarence Davis, who lived across the street from the Methodist church, operated a thrashing machine for several years.

"While digging for a septic tank in the northeast corner of Bloom Center, someone found the boiler from one of the old steam engines," according to Frank Smith.

The hamlet even had a lodge, Bloom Center Lodge No. 621, I.O.O.F., with Wood, Halboth, Shafer, Watkins, Smith and Davis as charter members.

A small newspaper was printed by the local grocer, and Orville Wren managed a garage and car dealership.

Village doctors included names such as Thompson, Halboth, Houseman, Wilson and Pratt, "a well-known doctor in Bellefontaine who started his profession with an office and drug store in Bloom Center," Wildermuth said.

Women's lib also had an early start in the hamlet when Mrs. Sadie Waitman served as the town barber and drove the local milk truck about 90 years ago, he said.

Other barbers were Rolley Corvin, Clint Cloud an Ike Dearwester.

The local schoolhouse, which closed around 1918, is now owned by Homer Miller and was used as a welding shop for a number of years. "Ewing Smith began his teaching there," Mrs. Dalrymple said. The original school was torn down.

Villagers proudly note that wood from the nearby Smith and Hoover farms was used to reconstruct the historically famous "Old Ironsides."

But with only a church, two store buildings, the township house, the school and a few homes remaining, Bloom Center's own history has been reduced to just a few paragraphs in local history books.

HENRY TUCKER, right, was responsible for digging many of the ditches in Logan county.

FOR THIRTY-FIVE YEARS

Mr. Andrew Halboth Acted as Postmaster at Bloomcenter.

From Monday's Daily Index.

Probably the one postmaster in the state who has ever held the office for thirty-five years in succession is Andrew Halboth, of Bloomcenter, father of Mrs. John C. Sullivan, of this city. Mr. Halboth has been postmaster at Bloomcenter for all those years until two weeks ago a change was made. He is in Bellefontaine today the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan. He finds Bellefontaine much improved and the many new structures are being greatly admired by him. No citizen of the county is more highly respected than is Mr. Halboth, and he is one of the great big hearted pioneers whom every one likes.

I'm sorry to be the bearer of bad news, but we have no contact information for any trustee or owner of the Mt. Olive Cemetery. Our most current information is from a report from April of 1999. It states, "Cemetery is listed in Auditor's office, no deed, no owner. Public. Cemetery is behind house which was at one time a church." I wish I had more information for you!

It was nice to meet you a few weeks ago. Please let me know if I can be of assistance in the future!

Jennifer...Thank you so much for trying to help me.

Would you have any idea if births / deaths are in your web site ? Or would there be an obituary for a Robert K Dopp in an Indianapolis paper , he died August 6,1992.Through him,if they had children I might be able to call them.Then I could go backwords.

Oh well, it sounds like a plan....

CEMETERY MAPS

Maps of four of the larger cemeteries in Shelby County were in previous issues of SHELBYANA:

Graceland Cemetery	#23	April 1985
Glen Cemetery	#24	July 1985
Cedar Point Cemetery	#30	January 1987
Pearl Cemetery	#36	July 1988

During 1998 two of these cemeteries made a new road or drive and opened up a new section for burials. At Graceland Cemetery an entrance/exit was changed & a mausoleum was built. Due to these changes we are giving you two up-dated maps. (Also see next page.)

These maps are free-hand drawings and are not to scale. We hope they will help as you try to locate grave sites and also provide a place to record, for your records, approximately where the graves are located.

SHELBY COUNTY, OHIO MARRIAGE RECORDS, 1856-1858

During a brief period of time, January 1856 - February 1858, a set of marriage records was maintained in Shelby Co. which was more detailed than the records in the Probate Court. Although this information does not appear to include all Shelby Co. marriages during this period and some discrepancies in dates and name spellings are apparent, it is valuable because of the personal data provided: age, sequence of marriage, residence, birthplace and parentage of the bride or groom. Included are some marriages for which licenses apparently were obtained in neighboring counties. Copied from Ohio Historical Soc. microfilm by Barbara Adams.

Dear Lucy,

Thank you for the generous check received today!!

Enclosed are the documents.

If, when I go to the Post Office to mail this envelope, it costs any extra postage, your check will take care of any difference.

You mention your ancestor chart. We have not been publishing any of them in SHELBYANA. We do put them in a book in the Genealogy Section of the Amos Memorial Public Library in Sidney so that any researchers that are in that section can see them. Each name appearing on the ancestor chart is put on an index card for easy reference. The chart is assigned a number & that chart number is put on each of the index cards.

Good Luck to you in your research!!!!

Sincerely,

Betty Bevans

Dear Lucy,

It is unusual for the documents of several different names to be available, but you are the lucky one!

Instead of my trying to figure out how many long envelopes for you to send, it was just easier to pack up the available documents & send them on their way. Will try to get them to the nearest Post Office before the next snow storm arrives this afternoon.

The only name that no documents were available for was the one of Rinehart. I think that J-3 on the membership list got those. The January Issue No. 54 gives her new address. (D. JoAnn Johnson)

We also have some documents from 1900 thru 1929. These include the following names & are available if you want them:

Leach, Walter & Grace 1920
Line, John (decd) 1906 signed by Ann Malcolm
Line, R.W. & Hariet Isable 1914
& Foster, W.J. & Ona Gertrude
McClosky, William H. & Nora 1903
Rhinehart, Noah (decd) 1902 by Rebecca Rhinehart
Stewart, Joseph 1915
" L.W. & Jessie F. 1920
" Nettie E. 1924
" Sarah E. 1923
" Sarah E. & Calvin 1904

Sent for these
3-1-93
Included 10.00 check to cover 1st batch postage
+ this group
+ Lg. SASE.

When the document for a certain name was requested we sent all that were for that name (instead of using space to repeat that name in the list of documents). Am also sending a POA & an unrecorded document.

My maternal line goes back to the Davis line which includes Babcock, Maxson & some Lippencott/Lippincott. Have NOT researched the Lippencott family itself, but am including a family group sheet with a William Lippencott. Don't know if it matches yours or not.

If you want to repay the amount of the postage, you can. Since I didn't wait to see if you wanted me to send them, I'm not particular. I'm just glad to send them to someone you may get some use from them.

Sincerely,

Betty Bevans

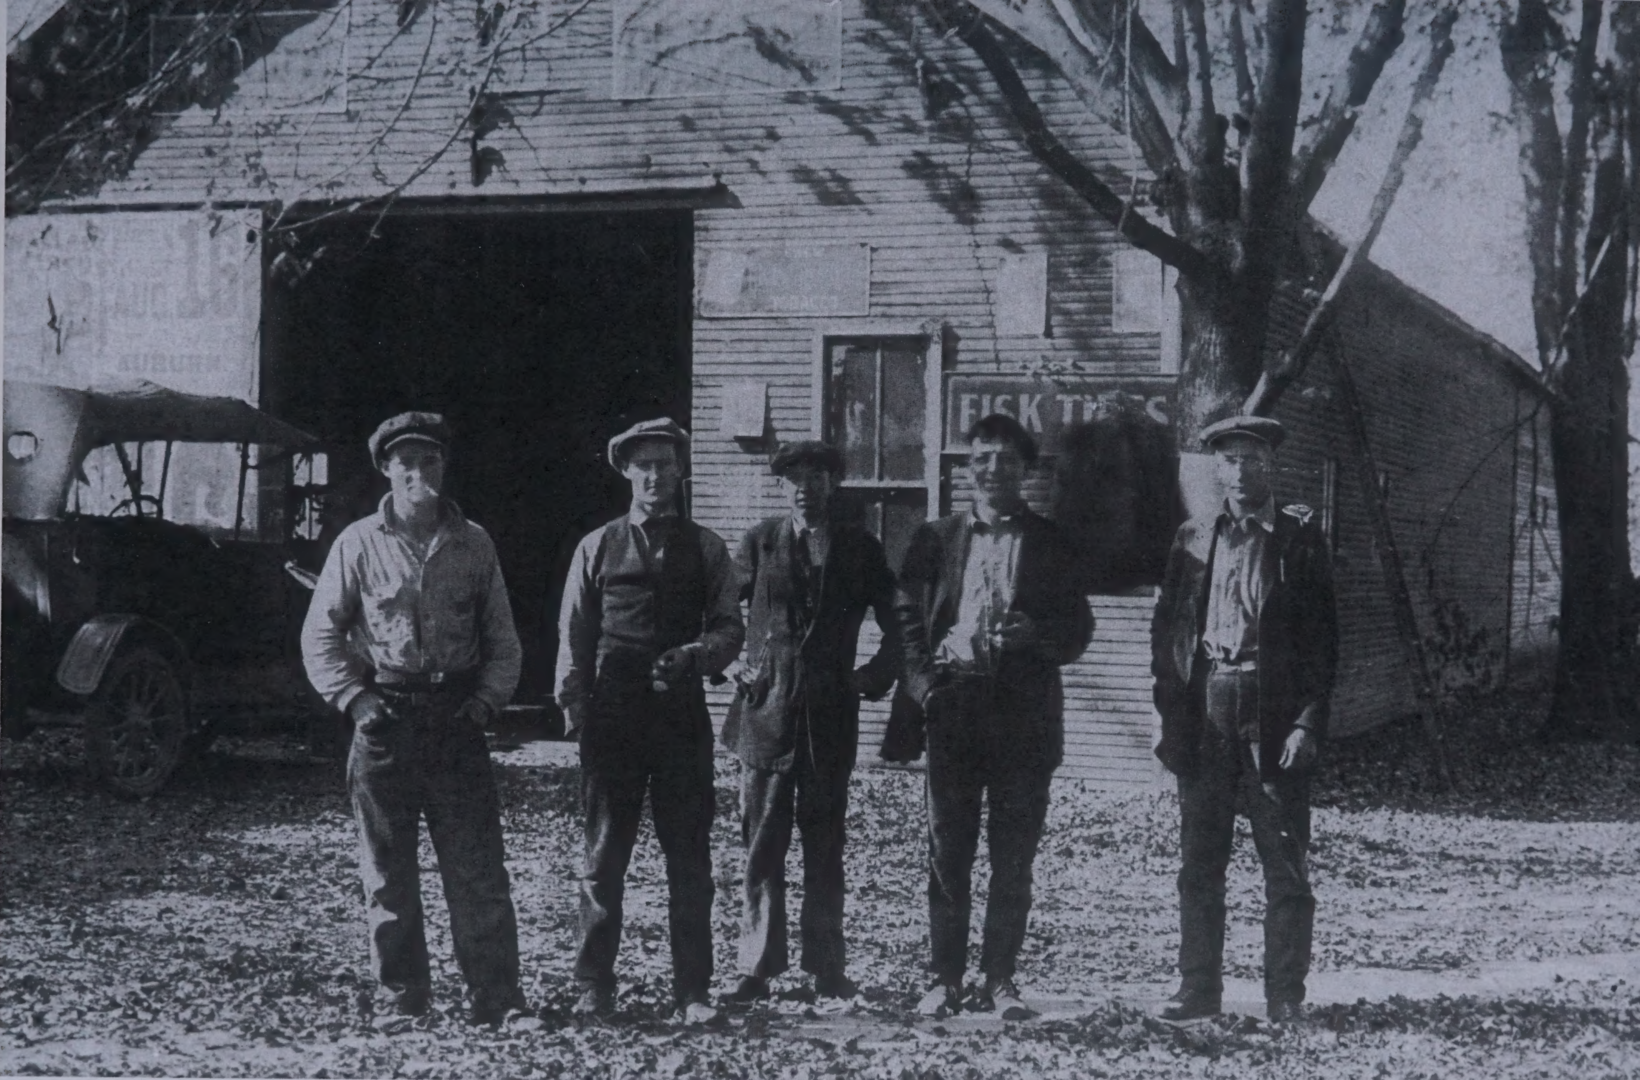
A WALK THROUGH THE PAST

Jacob Kell

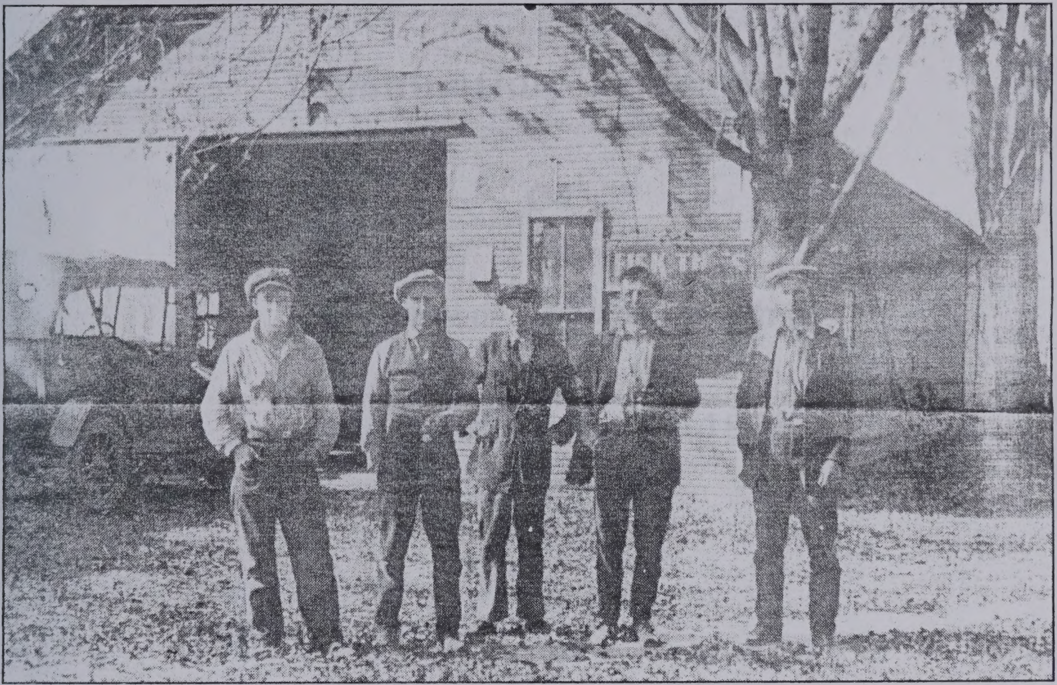
Jacob Kell came to Perry township in 1843, and entered in all one-hundred and twenty acres of land. He earned the money with which to furnish his own house by splitting rails at seventy-five cents per hundred, furnishing the timber and boarding himself while doing work. Mr. Kell amassed a thousand acres of Allen County's best land. He was a "Regulator", and served as township trustee. He helped establish the Perry Center Seminary, an institution of higher learning which was disbanded when most of the students left for the Civil War.

HUNTERTOWN HISTORICAL SOCIETY



THE DILLINGER GANG - 1927

The Dillinger gang was hiding out in Grandpa (Cal) Gump's woods. He didn't realize they were wanted men in Chicago. John Dillinger was in jail, but part of his gang was in hiding. They brought their car to George Johnson's garage and had it fixed. They later robbed the bank in Huntertown. In the picture is Johnson's garage at the end of Burl Sloffer's store. Second from right is George Johnson. Picture courtesy of Lorna (Johnson) McComb.



The Huntertown Historical Society's calendars offer intriguing glimpses into Huntertown's past--like this photo of the Dillinger gang taken in 1927. While Dillinger was in jail, members of his gang were hiding in Grandpa (Cal) Gump's woods. Gump didn't realize they were wanted men in Chicago. While in Huntertown, the gang members brought their car to George Johnson's garage for repairs. They later robbed the bank in Huntertown. The building in this photo is Johnson's garage at the end of Burl Sloffer's store. Second from right is George Johnson. See this photo and more in the calendars, which cost $10 each for 2004 calendars and $6 each for calendars from 2001, 2002, and 2003. The new 2005 calendars will be available in August. Calendars can be purchased at the Northwest News office, Farmers & Merchants Bank, and the Huntertown Hardware store. (photo courtesy of the Huntertown Historical Society)

Silas Herrald, the Noble county fire fiend who put the torch to five buildings, one of them being the home of his mother, Mrs. Sophronia Herrald, burning down, was taken to Albion by the Noble county sheriff Thursday. While incarcerated, in the county jail Herrald burned three mattresses this week and started to raise trouble until Sheriff Bodley locked him in a cell. Herrald wanted to go back to Longcliffe asylum, from which place he escaped twice before, but the prosecutor of Noble county will do all in his power to land Herrald in the criminally insane ward of the Michigan City prison.

Lucy,

I will add your name and your niece's name to the pending list. I assume you will be making the commitment for the purchase of your niece's copy. If not, she will have to contact me herself, so she can establish a commitment by e-mail with me.

As far as funds ahead of time, I may not do that now. The printer tells me when word gets that your relation has a book of family history, you can usually always get rid of the copies. Most of his clients have never had any problem dispersing all the copies eventually and usually more are requested than one has. So I will trust his judgment, I think, for now. I want to treat all requesting copies equally, anyway.

On the issue of inserting your family's history in this book, I don't know about that yet, for two reasons. First one is, if it should be included with this Harold line and the second is if I will be doing the typing or if Stella Harold is going to do it with the recent updated history she gained at our last Harold Family Reunion in Oregon. She talked about trying to get it done in the next two weeks. If not, then I may do it, depending on how much typing it is. She is supposed to let me know in two weeks.

One way or the other, this manuscript will be printed with or without updates or added material. I have waited so long to get this done waiting on others. I am concerned about a few of the earlier requests for copies from others who may not be interested now. I hope not. I have to re-contact most everyone again, soon.

If you would like to send me the info you have on your family line, I will read what you got, how it fits, and let you know. I can't promise you anything though. If it gets inserted, credit will be given.

Yours,

Fred Schad

In a message dated 3/30/03 7:59:39 PM Eastern Standard Time, hfr2002@att.net writes:

Dear Lucy Keller Green,

How are you? I find I have some kind of relation everywhere on my mother side that are interested in their heritage. Seems to be the opposite on my father's side of my family. Strange, but true.

Yes, I have a copy of the first manuscript that was produced by my great Aunt Florence and Mr. Kellog. I never met him. I did know Aunt Florence.

Originally, when I received this copy, I was going to get one printed for myself, then thought of my immediate family and their families, 2 brothers and my nieces and nephews. They were not really that interested. So with our Harold Family Reunion being planned for late July, 2002 and here in Oregon, I decided to contact my cousins in Kansas, among other places. Word leaked out, then there were 2nd cousins from my great uncles and great aunts who were interested. The numbers starting growing. The next thought was, "Well maybe I should wait until after the reunion and take orders". I talked with Stella Harold and her daughter about them taking orders and writing up dates to this present manuscript gathering that info from attendees at the reunion. That became the new plan and we agreed.

The reunion came, they took the down the new updates, and she took orders for a new family tree. In the mean time, I decided to have the copies of the manuscript turned into a leather bound book instead of a paper back. Cost was going to run around $25, for a ball park figure. I then stated I would ask for half the cost of the book as a deposit from all those interested. I sent out that message to all those that had requested a book. I received no response. None, in return. So, still with the need to wait on Stella's response on how the updates were coming before printing could begin, I decided to wait for her. I have sent her and her daughter several e-mail messages asking about the updates and her family tree. No responses from either.

Therefore, the production of this book has been halted waiting on others for their commitments. Are those who ordered willing to put up half a deposit? Are those who I thought were going to do the updates still going to do it, and when? Or do I just go back to my original plan and only order a smaller amount of books to have bound after I make all the copies of the manuscript for those who I know will pay the end costs when the manuscript is turned into the hard bound book? A higher cost per book to my immediate family.

That is the dilemma. I have been real busy myself with Boy Scouting and other events, too. However, something needs to get rolling again, one way or another.

Based on what you now know, are you interested in ordering a copy of which, the present manuscript, which was the first publication or the updated version, if it ever gets updated?

Yours Truly,

Fred Schad, William Kline,Jesse,Agnes Harold Schad

Word leaked out, then there were 2nd cousins from my great uncles and great aunts who were interested. The numbers starting growing. The next thought was, "Well maybe I should wait until after the reunion and take orders". I talked with Stella Harold and her daughter about them taking orders and writing up dates to this present manuscript gathering that info from attendees at the reunion. That became the new plan and we agreed. The reunion came, they took the down the new updates, and she took orders for a new family tree. In the mean time, I decided to have the copies of the manuscript turned into a leather bound book instead of a paper back. Cost was going to run around $25, for a ball park figure. I then stated I would ask for half the cost of the book as a deposit from all those interested. I sent out that message to all those that had requested a book. I received no response. None, in return. So, still with the need to wait on Stella's response on how the updates were coming before printing could begin, I decided to wait for her. I have sent her and her daughter several e-mail messages asking about the updates and her family tree. No responses from either.Therefore, the production of this book has been halted waiting on others for their commitments. Are those who ordered willing to put up half a deposit? Are those who I thought were going to do the updates still going to do it, and when? Or do I just go back to my original plan and only order a smaller amount of books to have bound after I make all the copies of the manuscript for those who I know will pay the end costs when the manuscript is turned into the hard bound book? A higher cost per book to my immediate family.That is the dilemma. I have been real busy myself with Boy Scouting and other events, too. However, something needs to get rolling again, one way or another.Based on what you now know, are you interested in ordering a copy of which, the present manuscript, which was the first publication or the updated version, if it ever gets updated?Yours Truly,Fred Schad, William Kline,Jesse,Agnes Harold SchadPlease delete the original e-mail address you used to contact me and use the return e-mail address sent with this message. Thanks.

If you could send the information as an M/S Word attachment, that would be helpful to me. It would save you postage. That why I would have the info on my computer (in text form), eliminating the need to retype everything again, just to get it on the computer (in text form) where the other updates may go.

If not, I will send you my address. However, please do not release my USPS mailing address to any one and limit my e-mail address to only those you know I know. Some genealogy enthusiasts tend to pass on personal information to others not in a family group. I would just like to restrict that information flow. Thank you.

All will be notified prior to printing, to verify their orders. The way these attempts at a 2nd printing have been proceeding, don't expect it soon. Just be patient. It will still be more than a few short weeks, I bet.

Hello...I took a quick look at the older data bases of Eric Hovemeyer, who I call the God of the Goldsberry History in America. I did not find a Davis Goldsberry, George Goldsb (born in the 1700's) nor a Huff Goldsberry. We need some more information.

There are 40+ Goldsberry lines in America... and Eric has pretty good info on most of th Your line might be a new one. If you will contact me directly, I will be happy to direct y Eric. To State and Club Presidents, and all Club Women, ting:

ere has been no loyal and earnest club woman in the ngth and breadth of our land who has not wondered if the General Federation of Women's Clubs would not undertake some magnificent piece of war work as the contribution of the club women of America to the world's need.

Individually we have been working, and many clubs as well have undertaken specific tasks, as the adoption of French and Belgian children, the rehabilitation of French cities, work in the cantonments here at home, with always increasing Red Cross work, but club women have not, hitherto, perfected plans for the consummation of a task that would stand as a monument to the consecration of our women to the nation's service.

Such a work is now planned, and the machinery for its accomplishment is being put into action. Let us not fail in this, even as we never yet have failed in any project for humanity's betterment.

Each club woman, north, south, east and west, is asked to give one dollar--or more--for a fund of, at least, a quarter million of dollars, to be used to establish furlough houses in France, and to do such other war work as is possible, acting under expert advice. The fund is to be collected and administered by the War Victory Commission, G. F. W. C., created, with power to act, by the Board of Directors G. F. W. C., in session at Hot Springs, Virginia, January 25, 1918, said Commission consisting of ten members.

The War Victory Commission is delegated a gigantic task to accomplish, which successfully and with honor to the club women of the nation will require earnest effort and entire co-operation.

The president, Mrs. Cowles, and your chairman of the War Victory Commission, conferred with Mr. Raymond Fosdick, head of the Commission on Training Camp Activities, at Washington, Saturday, January 26, concerning the proposed plan of establishing centers in France for our own American Soldiers, on furlough, learning that he considers this work of vital importance and absolutely necessary if the morale of the army is to be maintained and our soldiers returned to us sane, clean and well balanced.

into which we should put our enthusi[illegible] faith, our trust, in the deep conviction that we, th[illegible] women of America, by this gift to be used for our own men and boys who are fighting in this war for world liberty, shall indicate our loyal desire also to serve our nation to the end of victory and true peace.

(Signed) Delphine Dodge Ashbaugh,
Chairman.

Under commission of the government, Mr. Fosdick is immediately leaving for France to study plans, ways and means by which such furlough centers can be quickly established. He will be absent about two months, and it is the hope of the Commission and the Board of Directors that by the time he returns with definite information, we will have the money to begin the work which he believes the greatest work the women of America can undertake. It will cost not less than $25,000 to maintain each furlough center for one year. From time to time letters will be issued as the plans shall develop for establishing and maintaining said houses and dispen[illegible]es.

The plan of procedure, already submitted to and approved by the board of directors G. F. W. C., is as follows:

The states have been divided into eight districts of six states each, each district to be under the supervision of a member of the Commission, who will be directly responsible for the work in her district, and who will be called district chairman. Each district chairman will name a state chairman for each state under her jurisdiction and forward names immediately to the Chairman of War Victory Commission; the Boaad of Directors voted that, as part of her duty as director, the director from each state shall serve as state chairman. Ten directors of the G. F. W. C. were appointed members of the Commission. In these states therefore the members of the Commission in charge of districts, will appoint as state chairman, the state president or her appointee.

District chairmen will report full details weekly to the Chairman War Victory Commission.

It will be the duty of each state chairman to organize her state, which she is privileged to do in the way she deems best suited to local conditions. The commission desires results; not to dictate methods by which results are attained. The Plan of Work for Clubs is enclosed.

This s[illegible]did work, then, is ours. It is an effort into which we s[illegible] put our enthusi[illegible] our faith, our trust

War Victory Commission

General Federation of Women's Clubs

MRS. JOSIAH EVANS COWLES, President.
MRS. DELPHINE DODGE ASHBAUGH, Chairman.

To the Clubwomen of America:

The War Victory Commission, General Federation of Women's Clubs, sends greeting to you and bespeaks your fullest and most earnest co-operation in the greatest work ever undertaken by clubwomen acting as a unit. That the work is for our own men—who are fighting in France for the safety of our homes and home life and for the protection of American women and children from the ravages and horrors of brutalized war that would inevitably come to our own land if Germany should not be defeated—brings us to it with a consecration and devotion that will inspire the heart of every woman in America to assist in making possible the carrying out of the plans for which the General Federation of Women's Clubs created the War Victory Commission, plans approved by the War department of the United States, namely the establishing of American homes in France for the American soldier on leave, in such places as the War Department may direct.

Officers and men, convalescents returned from France, as well as civilians returned from special missions, say that the great need yet unfilled for our soldiers abroad is that a bit of home life shall be given them when they leave the trenches on furloughs, and that the work is distinctly a work for the women of America; that only women can instill new life within the heart of a boy hungry for the sight of his own people. The government recognizes this and welcomes the co-operation of women in providing the atmosphere of home. This must be taken to them since they can not come home to it. The next best thing to coming home will be to go to a home wherein American women stand ready to minister to their happiness and comfort.

Perhaps the most unusual sight ever seen in any convention occurred on Wednesday morning, May 8, at the great biennial convention in Hot Springs, Arkansas, when the state chairmen, who must carry on the work of raising the money for these furlough homes, came before the convention in a body and presented a recommendation, which was adopted, that the sum to be raised be placed at two million dollars instead of at a quarter million, as the board of directors had almost fearfully named. And this request was made by these state chairmen because of the earnest, enthusiastic letters each had received from the women of her state, showing that back of this movement stood a consecrated womanhood—the mothers, wives and sisters of the men over there, who count no sacrifice too great if through it new heart, new life and strength, could be given to our men who are giving themselves as a sacrifice for the establishment of the ideals of humanity, for home and country.

In a last letter to the War Victory Commission, before leaving for France, the head of the Commission on Training Camp Activities, that division of the War Department having charge of such work, wrote: "Upon my return from France I hope to have definite plans and specifications for your work abroad. In the meantime please accept my hearty assurance of support and co-operation. (Signed) Raymond B. Fosdick, Chairman Commission on Training Camp Activities."

Let me repeat what I said in my last message: This work is undertaken under approval given the Federation by the War Department. It is not a Duplication of the work carried on by any other organization. The Federation, through its War Commission, will administer the fund.

Full plans, as developed, for the establishment of such homes, will be laid before you immediately upon their acceptance. In the meantime, the one work lying before us, is the collection of the fund, that when the plans are ready we shall have the necessary money. Let us not be found wanting in preparation for this work assigned to us by the War Department, that when the call comes we may go forward to "carry on."

DELPHINE DODGE ASHBAUGH, Chairman

As a young man, he resid farm with his parents, Samuel and Liza Stockman. Later he was foreman in a lumber camp in Wisconsin. His health being impared, Dr. Mc Kibbin, a schoolmate and life-long friend, induced him to come to Adams in the late 90's. He was overseer of the highway here for years.

As an admirer of God's great outdoors, he knew the woods and the songs of the birds, and we are told by those who knew him best, that many an hour was spent in the quiet of his home reading the Bible.

He was a member of the K. P. lodge

He leaves to mourn, his wife, Mrs. Jennie Stockman, and two children by a former marriage, Mrs. Emma K. Post of Brookfield, Ill., and Chas. Truman To Cancel Talk On Thursday

Won't Interfere With MacArthur Day in Capital

TRUMAN TALK OFF

WASHINGTON: (AP) President Truman today canceled plans to address the American Society of Newspaper Editors Thursday, in order not to interfere with "Gen. Douglas MacArthur's Day."

Congress today sent Gen. Douglas MacArthur a formal invitation to address it at 11:30 a. m. (cst) Thursday.

The message, signed by House Speaker Rayburn, was dispatched immediately after the Senate by unanimous consent agreed to a joint meeting with the House to hear the general.

Board Fixes Salaries for Election Day

The county commissioners set the salaries of precinct election officials, purchased insurance for all county-owned vehicles, and heard a series of drainage complaints from county residents when they met Thursday night in Goshen.

The salaries of precinct officers for the May primary were set at the maximum scale allowed by the state election board: $24 for inspectors, $9 for judges and clerks, and $6 for the sheriff. Each will be allowed $3.50 for meals.

The salary setting, moved by Warren Shively, involves an increase of $4 for inspectors. Other precinct officials already were paid the maximum.

Three-Day Job

Election inspectors, who head the election boards, have duties covering a three-day period — one day to draw election supplies from the county election board, one day on the poll, and a third day to return the ballot boxes and returns to the county board.

The duties of the other officials occupy only one day's time — election day.

The commissioners agreed to purchase two kinds of insurance for the 46 county vehicles, comprehensive and public liability policies.

The Baker Insurance Co. of Goshen, Potomac Insurance Co. agency, whose bid of $636.64 was the lowest of four, was awarded the comprehensive insurance contract. The $646.99 bid of Calvin Burkhardt of Elkhart, agent for the Auto Owners Mutual Co., was accepted by the commissioners for public liability insurance. It was the lowest of seven bids.

Ditch Blocked

Drainage problems were brought before the commissioners by Mrs. Dan Bilancio, representing a group of residents along U.S. 33 west of Elkhart, and Henry Cripe, a farmer living on West Indiana ave. just outside Elkhart.

Mrs. Bilancio complained that a drainage ditch running along U.S. 33 adjacent to her farm property about 3 miles out of Elkhart had been blocked by a driveway on property bordering her own.

The commissioners told her that though it is a county ditch, it is under the jurisdiction of the state highway department, and advised Mrs. Bilancio and her neighbors to seek legal advice for action to clear the ditch.

Cripe, whose complaint concerned driveways across the road from his farm which blocked the drainage ditch, and caused water to collect in his fields, was promised an investigation.

Road Business

Olin Allen, Cleveland township trustee, was promised by the commissioners that County Road 101, running past the township school, will be placed high on the priority list for blacktopping during the year.

The commissioners accepted the dedication of about 400 feet of right-of-way needed by the county to complete the road connecting the U. S. 112 by-pass with the old Fort Wayne road along the boundary of Cleveland and Osolo townships.

The dedication, including 30 feet of right-of way through

Disabled Vet Keeps Busy And Useful

What kind of life can be led by an Army vet who suffered an injury which paralyzed both legs?

Arthur Nickler, 23, of 2500 Broadmoor dr., finding himself in such a position, seems to have found one answer. He leads an interesting life, which includes a full-time job and enough hobbies to keep several persons busy.

From 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Art is radio and telephone operator for the police department, an esential job he handles with ease from his wheel chair.

After his eight-hour tour of duty at the police station, he climbs into his specially-equipped car, which can be operated without foot controls, to pursue his other interests.

He'd Like To Race

One of those diversions is racing—both hot rod and stock car.

A special invitation went to Nickler last season when a group of city firemen made the first test run of "4-11," their hot rod racer. Nickler was one of the first men to give the racer a few turns around the track. He also wanted the firemen to fix all-manual controls so he could drive it in races.

Art has never driven in a race, but he remains one of the staunchest fans in the county and visits the tracks frequently.

Another of Art's pastimes is photography. He doesn't have a darkroom yet, but in his new home near the Conn pond, space has been set aside for one. When the darkroom is installed, its equipment will include a Nickler-made strip film developer for his home movies.

For still pictures, Art has his 35-mm. camera constantly within reach, even hanging it on the back of his chair while he is on duty at the police station.

Truman To Cancel Talk On Thursday

Won't Interfere With MacArthur Day in Capital

TRUMAN TALK OFF

WASHINGTON: (AP) President Truman today canceled plans to address the American Society of Newspaper Editors Thursday, in order not to interfere with "Gen. Douglas MacArthur's Day."

Congress today sent Gen. Douglas MacArthur a formal invitation to address it at 11:30 a. m. (cst) Thursday.

The message, signed by House Speaker Rayburn, was dispatched immediately after the Senate by unanimous consent agreed to a joint meeting with the House to hear the general.

MacArthur To Reach U.S.A. Tonight

HONOLULU: (AP) General MacArthur leaves the warm, traditional flower-scented hospitality of Hawaii today on his stern mission to challenge in Congress the views of the President who fired him over war policy.

His sleek, shiny plane, the Bataan, was scheduled to take off from Honolulu international airport at 9:30 a. m. (1:30 p. m. cst) en route to San Francisco and Washington.

Due in Tonight

The Bataan should arrive at San Francisco international airport about 8 p. m. (10 p. m. cst). After an overnight rest in San Francisco and brief ceremonies there Wednesday morning, MacArthur will depart for Washington and his appearance Thursday before a joint session of Congress.

For two hours yesterday, Hawaii's polyglot population lining a 25-mile route cheered MacArthur, his wife, and son.

MacArthur smiled and waved in response to the shouts of the crowds. He shook a child's hand. He chatted with an ex-soldier who had fought with him on Bataan.

He chuckled as a fat, barefooted woman danced a hula when his green sedan rolled by.

Receives Degree

He received an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws from the University of Hawaii in an amphitheater jammed with 5,000 people. He heard the university president acclaim him "one of the greatest Americans of all times."

He stopped at Punchbowl, a national cemetery in the extinct crater of a volcano overlooking Honolulu and Pearl Harbor and placed a wreath of orchids at the base of a flagpole in honor of 13,000 World War II dead buried there.

The general rode in the lead car with his Hawaii host, Adm. Arthur W. Radford, Pacific fleet commander.

In the next car with Mrs. Radford were Mrs. Jean MacArthur and their son Arthur, who hurried to join the procession after a romp on the white sands of Waikiki beach.

Greets Filipinos

The motorcade, paced by 11 motorcycle police, passed through Liliha, center of Honolulu's Filipino populace.

The general called "Mahuhai!" a Filipino greeting.

Inmates crowded against barred windows and shouted "Aloha," when the procession passed Oahu prison.

Housewives in shorts and sun suits, laborers in work clothes, nuns in grey, grubby urchins—all lined the streets. Mothers held aloft their tiny children.

Capital Prepares

"There he is. There he is" the people constantly shouted.

MacArthur, due in San Francisco tonight, plans to fly to Washington to address a joint meeting of Congress on Thursday.

set at the maximum scale allowed by the state election board: $24 for inspectors, $9 for judges and clerks, and $6 for the sheriff. Each will be allowed $3.50 for meals.

The salary setting, moved by Warren Shively, involves an increase of $4 for inspectors. Other precinct officials already were paid the maximum.

Three-Day Job

Election inspectors, who head the election boards, have duties covering a three-day period — one day to draw election supplies from the county election board, one day on the poll, and a third day to return the ballot boxes and returns to the county board.

The duties of the other officials occupy only one day's time — election day.

The commissioners agreed to purchase two kinds of insurance for the 46 county vehicles, comprehensive and public liability policies.

The Baker Insurance Co. of Goshen, Potomac Insurance Co. agency, whose bid of $636.64 was the lowest of four, was awarded the comprehensive insurance contract. The $646.99 bid of Calvin Burkhardt of Elkhart, agent for the Auto Owners Mutual Co., was accepted by the commissioners for public liability insurance. It was the lowest of seven bids.

Ditch Blocked

Drainage problems were brought before the commissioners by Mrs. Dan Bilancio, representing a group of residents along U.S. 33 west of Elkhart, and Henry Cripe, a farmer living on West Indiana ave. just outside Elkhart.

Mrs. Bilancio complained that a drainage ditch running along U.S. 33 adjacent to her farm property about 3 miles out of Elkhart had been blocked by a driveway on property bordering her own.

The commissioners told her that though it is a county ditch, it is under the jurisdiction of the state highway department, and advised Mrs. Bilancio and her neighbors to seek legal advice for action to clear the ditch.

Cripe, whose complaint concerned driveways across the road from his farm which blocked the drainage ditch, and caused water to collect in his fields, was promised an investigation.

Road Business

Olin Allen, Cleveland township trustee, was promised by the commissioners that County Road 101, running past the township school, will be placed high on the priority list for blacktopping during the year.

The commissioners accepted the dedication of about 400 feet of right-of-way needed by the county to complete the road connecting the U. S. 112 by-pass with the old Fort Wayne road along the boundary of Cleveland and Osolo townships.

The dedication, including 30 feet of right-of way through bies to keep several persons busy.

From 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Art is radio and telephone operator for the police department, an esential job he handles with ease from his wheel chair.

After his eight-hour tour of duty at the police station, he climbs into his specially-equipped car, which can be operated without foot controls, to pursue his other interests.

He'd Like To Race

One of those diversions is racing—both hot rod and stock car.

A special invitation went to Nickler last season when a group of city firemen made the first test run of "4-11," their hot rod racer. Nickler was one of the first men to give the racer a few turns around the track. He also wanted the firemen to fix all-manual controls so he could drive it in races.

Art has never driven in a race, but he remains one of the staunchest fans in the county and visits the tracks frequently.

Another of Art's pastimes is photography. He doesn't have a darkroom yet, but in his new home near the Conn pond, space has been set aside for one. When the darkroom is installed, its equipment will include a Nickler-made strip film developer for his home movies.

For still pictures, Art has his 35-mm. camera constantly within reach, even hanging it on the back of his chair while he is on duty at the police station.

property on both sides of the boundary, was made by L. R. White, one of the property owners.

William Thorne, Elkhart attorney, petitioned the commission, in the name of the Elkhart Humane society, for county support for the humane shelter for stray dogs maintained by the society near Elkhart.

Suggests Dog Fund Surplus

Thorne told the board that the society, though obtaining some funds from the city of Elkhart, was unable to handle the financial problem.

O. P. Martin, county auditor, advised Thorne and the commissioners that funds for the shelter may be obtained from the township dog funds. He pointed out that there is generally a surplus of these funds, which is turned in to the state treasury each year.

Martin said he believed these funds could be used for the shelter without any action on the part of the commission.

The salary of Carl Thompson, county road superintendent, was increased from $4,000 to $4,500 annually, effective May 1. Shively made the motion, pointing out that recent wage raises granted other road department employes had made salaries of some employes larger than that of the superintendent.

A resolution setting the working hours of county employes ahead one hour, in effect establishing daylight saving time without changing the clocks, was adopted by the commissioners, to be effective by Sunday, April 29.

in Korea, attached to the 24th Infantry division. His injury occurred in August, 1946, when he was training with the battalion at Ft. Jackson, S.C., five months after he was inducted into service.

While working on a machine gun range, part of a sand embankment collapsed, covering him above the waist as he was pinned in a sitting position.

Long in Hospitals

The next five months he spent in Oliver General hospital, Augusta, Ga. Then followed six months at Percy Jones hospital, Battle Creek, Mich. Five months after his discharge from the Army in July, 1947, he started his present job with the police department.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Nickler, 522 Capitol blvd., Art was an apprentice electrician before entering the Army. Now that his former choice of occupation is unsuited to him, he still manages a full, though slightly unorthodox life, as the wheel chair hot rod of the police department.

REMEMBER THE OLD DAYS

Loon E. Tick Compares the Holidays of His Boyhood With the Merry Whirl of Modern Life

December 24, 1924.

Dear Nick:—

TWENTY YEARS AGO I REMEMBER:

When eggs were three dozen for twenty-five cents; butter ten cents per pound at Giesecke's; milk was five cents a quart at ak's;

Funeral services for John J. Stockman were held Friday at 1:30, Chaplain E. B. Earle, officiating. Two hymns of his own selection, "Asleep in Jesus" and "One Sweetly Solemn Thought," rendered by Rev. Earle and Miss Rizpah Crowell. At the close of the service members of the F. A. Marden Post conducted funeral rites of their order, followed by rites of the Ladies of G. A. R., as Mrs. Stockman requested. Full military honors were accorded this aged veteran of the Civil War with the Home fife and drum corps leading the procession to the cemetery. Mr. Stockman died Tuesday, September 27, in the hospital where he had been several weeks after a fall in his room at Marston Hall; he recovered from that, but a bad heart with other ailments ended his earthly career. He was born near Goshen, Indiana, September 28, 1841 and was one of a large family. Desiring an education he worked for his board and attended school and was a student in the Warsaw, Ind., seminary when the war broke out. He left his studies and enlisted en Co. E. 48th Indiana Volunteer Infantry, Dec. 9, 1861, and served 42 months, taking part in several important battles—Corinth, Vicksburg, Missionary Ridge, Lookout Mt.—marched with Sherman to the sea, up thru the Carolinas, on to Washington and was in the Grand Review. About 1879 he became a resident of Wisconsin, and had resided in Grand Army Home since 1903. In 1904 he married Mrs. Esther Elmira Barrows, who died Feb. 23, 1923. Many nieces and nephews survive. Out of town people present at the obsequies were: two nieces, Mrs. Grace Lerch, Marine City, Mich., and Mrs. Emma Post, Chicago; other relatives, Mr. and Mrs. O. Omholt and her father, Mr. Barton, Wisconsin Rapids and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Pattison and Norma, Sheldon, Wis. Beautiful floral offerings from relatives and friends betokened their love and respect.

DANGEROUS FIRE MENACES BLOCK SOUTH OF STATION

Post Garage Makes Spectacular Blaze That Threatens Much Loss

RESULT OF EXPLOSION

Fire Department Does Good Work by Preventing Spread to Structures Adjacent

About two o'clock yesterday (Thursday) morning, people in the vicinity of the Brookfield Burlington station were aroused by the sound of an explosion and the glare of flames from the Post garage at 9 Prairie avenue, and rushed out to find the whole front part of the building a mass of fire.

Probably the first man to see it was Watchman Tepper at the Burlington railway crossing about a block away; he rang his bell and tried his best to attract attention, as he could not leave his post. About the same time, Mrs. Putts across the street from the scene of the fire, called up the fire department, but in the excitement gave the wrong number. She was soon connected up with the village hall and in just a matter of seconds the fire truck was on the jump and made a record run to the fire three blocks away with just three men on it.

However, firemen and citizens came swarming in from all directions in short order, and in a surprisingly short time the surrounding streets were crowded with cars and people. Flames were issuing from the front, from the windows, from the skylight and from various openings, while the whole interior was a fiery furnace.

Garage fires are notoriously dangerous because of the gas and oil saturated floors and partitions, as well as for the gasoline, lubricating oils, denatured alcohol and other inflammables that are commonly part of their stock in trade. This one was no exception.

Fire was spouting from every opening as the fire department got busy.

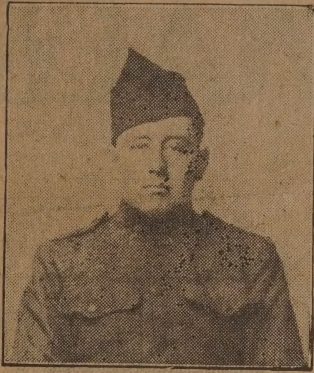
A Mother's Day Letter

By

Edward Feely



May 12, 1918.

Mrs. W. P. Feely,
Brookfield, Ill.

Dearest Mother:

I just received a letter from you about a week ago, and have answered it. But everybody over here is writing to their dearest one today. This is Mothers Day, and I suppose that you know that already.

How are you getting along? I am feeling fine myself, and hope that everybody at home is the same. I am going to have my picture taken tomorrow, and will send a couple of them home just as soon as I receive them. All of the boys are feeling fine.

We have a Y. M. C. A. right along side of our mess hall, and spend the time we have to ourselves there. They run a moving picture show twice a week.

How are all the boys around the corner—I suppose that they are going to Camp Grant one by one.

I am going to send a silk handkerchief with this letter, and hope that it gets to you safe and sound.

Well, I will close for this time and hope that you are all in the best of health. Now write whenever you can as I am always looking for a letter from home.

I will close now with lots and lots of love and kisses.

From your loving son,
Ed.

Editor's Note—The above letter, o.k.'d by Censor H. E. Whitney, was the last received from Edward Feely. His death occurred during the World War, and Edward Feely post of the American Legion, Brookfield, Ill., today bears his name.
